Lima Shopmen May Be Back on Job in Week

CONFERENCES UNDER WAY

Local Organizations Urge Separate Agreement With Roads

Striking railway shopmen in this city are ready and willing to return to work as soon as orders from the proper international officers are received by them, it was learned Friday.

The decision comes as the result of reported conferences between B. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen's union and railroad officials from eight lines, mutually interested in a separate settlement of the railway strike.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and the New York Central lines, are believed to be parties to the separate settlement. Both roads have shops in this city.

Return of Lima shopmen, however, it was definitely announced by Frank Clay, official of the local organization, would result only from orders received from the railway labor department of the American Federation of Labor.

Lima strikers, Clay insists, are firm in their demands for a national settlement agreed to by all roads, and will abide by the decision of their national body as required by their organization's rules.

AGREEMENT EXPECTED
Union men here are of the opinion that the separate agreement will be reached within the next few days, and that their members who were previously employed at the B. & O. and L. E. & W. shops here, will probably be ordered back to work.

In the event that settlement is effected with only one of the two Lima railroads, they declare, strikers will return in compliance with orders from the national officers, but at the same time, will do everything in their power to assist members of their organization who will remain on strike.

Negotiations started by the Lima Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturers Association may assist in a partial settlement of the rail strike, it is believed.

Several days ago the two Lima organizations dispatched telegrams to President Harding and Senators Cameron, Willis and Cummins asking that pressure be brought to bear on labor leaders to permit a separate peace for the B. & O. railroad.

In the telegram it was stated that workers here are ready to return to work immediately and that the railroad stands ready to arrange a separate agreement whereby they would be received at approximately their former status, it has been learned.

Conferences are now in progress and it is believed that the move by the Lima organizations have played a large part in bringing them about. PEACE IS SEEN

Information received from sources believed to be authoritative have it that an agreement is pending where by the striking Lima shopmen will be back at work within a week.

Whether this will be under a separate agreement or as a part of the nation-wide strike settlement could not be learned Friday but announcements made following conferences between Cummins, and labor leaders seemed to point toward a separate peace for a number of roads at least.

Whatever settlement is to be obtained should come from national rather than local sources and should have the approval of the national labor leaders, it was stated by officials of the manufacturers association.

Settlement of the labor difficulties will bring about a considerable improvement in the labor situation in Lima and will mean that industrial prosperity for the city is assured, business men feel.

INDIANAPOLIS GIRL AWARDED PRIZE

MISS BLOSSOM IS BEAUTY WINNER

Picked in Contest Held at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(United Press)—Miss Indianapolis, otherwise Miss Thelma Blossom, 20, is the flower of American beauties.

She must appear tonight in a bathing suit as a final test.

The girl from the middle west was judged the prettiest over 58 competitors in the annual fall pageant here when she appeared in an afternoon and evening frock yesterday.

The girls from many cities over the country, were wheeled past the judges in chairs.

Miss Blossom, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blossom, Indianapolis, is to compete in a bathing suit tonight against ten other beauties for the title "Miss America."

Miss Indianapolis must win to wrest the title from Miss Margaret Gorman, who was named as the nation's prize beauty last year.

Miss Indianapolis is a blonde, weighs 138 pounds and is five feet nine inches and a half tall.

When she passed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is here considering calling a general labor strike, forgot all his worries, and went on record as follows:

"I have travelled far, but this is the greatest treat I was ever afforded."

DIAMONDS SEIZED

Jeweler Robbed of $50,000 in Gems at Chicago

CHICAGO.—(Associated Press).—Adolph Kunster, said to be a New York jeweler, was assaulted by three men today in a restaurant on Upper Sheridan-road and robbed of jewelry valued at $50,000, according to reports to the police. The bandits escaped in an automobile. Kunster was taken to a hospital where it was said he had been severely beaten.

Few patrons were in the restaurant at the time and the robbers are believed to have previously learned Kunster's identity and followed him to the place. The bandit's automobile stopped in front of the place as Kunster entered, and the trio went inside after him. A fourth man remained in the car.

Without losing any time, the robbers, according to information given to the police, attacked Kunster and quickly got his wallet containing the jewelry which consisted chiefly of diamonds, and fled to their car and sped away.

Kunster is said to be in the diamond brokerage business with a brother in New York.

The cause of the derailment has not been determined.

OHIOAN KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Double Tragedy Enacted on Farm Near Marion

MARION, Ohio.—(United Press).—Fred Whitted, 67, shot and killed his wife and committed suicide at their home on a large farm near Prospect, last night, according to Sheriff Washburne.

The couple had just returned from Richmond. Mrs. Whitted was shot just as she alighted from the couple's automobile. Whitted's body was found in the car.

Whitted's three children by a former marriage, Mable, 19, Ethel, 17, and John, 14, were in the house when the first shot was fired.

When they reached the car the father had killed himself.

A three-year-old adopted child was in the automobile.

Financial reverses and jealousy are thought by officials to have prompted the tragedy.

The slain woman was formerly Mrs. Goldie Beckley, Marion. She was 33 years old.

$100,000 ASKED

Wife Sues Husband's Parents on "Slavery" Charge

YOUNGSTOWN.—(Associated Press).—Mrs. Mary Dechcio, wife of a railroad detective, today filed suit for $100,000 damages against her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dechcio, wealthy Youngstown residents, charging that they held her a "slave" for a month after her marriage, until she managed to escape.

The plaintiff says that after making her do the housework all day, the parents would tie her up in a locked room. Attempts at escape were followed by severe beatings, she says, and adds that when her husband remonstrated he was threatened with being disinherited. She declares she has been made an invalid.

MATERIAL TIEUP HALTS WORK

Caused by Government Priority Orders on Coal

RAILWAYS CAN'T MOVE CARS

Many Standing on Sidings at Different Points

COLUMBUS.—(Associated Press).—All state road building, except work of finishing base courses, has come to an end because of inability to secure transportation of materials, due to government priority orders on coal and foodstuffs, State Highway Commissioner Herrick announced today.

Plans of the state highway department had called for the same number of miles of roadway constructed this year as the record set in 1921, when 1,000 miles were finished.

By September 1, last, Herrick said, 397 miles of road had been finished since June 1, falling short by only three miles of the total planned to have completed at that time.

Efforts now, he said, will be concentrated on finishing base courses in order to avoid as many detours this winter as possible.

DIFFICULTIES NAMED
As an example of the difficulties that have arisen, Herrick pointed out that 100 tank cars of bituminous material were across the Ohio river in Kentucky and could not be shipped the short distance into Ohio and thence to a certain concern's refinery. As a result, the company had to make shipments from Chicago and St. Louis.

One contractor, Herrick said, reported that 21 cars containing materials were on a siding fifteen miles away from his contract but the railroad company found it impossible to move the cars to his work.

Herrick declared during the winter there would be a paved route over the C. C. C. highway from Cincinnati to Columbus and on to Cleveland. He said the 13 mile stretch from Democracy (north of Mt. Vernon) has been completed.

The greater portion of the "C. C. C." highway between Columbus and Mt. Vernon will be paved before cold weather and the remainder of the stretch will have a suitable base course for traffic.

WORK IN ALLEN GOES ON
Work on Allen-co roads is still in progress despite a shortage of material, employees of state highway department here declared Friday. Division Engineer Grover F. Clements is out of the city.

He is in close touch with the situation, and is alone in a position to state how far the shortage will affect completion of Allen-co highways. From other sources it was learned that a majority of the contractors on state roads in the county have sufficient supplies to wind up their work.

Cement is the most needed material, and wood curbs may be used in place of concrete, on account of the shortage.

KILLS SELF, BABY

Coney Island Woman Turns Gas on to End Lives

NEW YORK.—(Associated Press).—Mrs. Martha Lavender, in committing suicide today in her home in Coney Island, caused the death of her infant son William, three months old. Her daughter Lillian, aged seven, may also die.

The woman and her two children were found in her locked apartment which was filled with gas fumes. The infant was dead while the mother and daughter were taken to a hospital, where the mother died.

Mrs. Lavender left a note to her husband saying that she had been sick for two years.

"I am taking my two children with me," she wrote, "as I could not think of leaving them behind me. Whatever luck my spirit can bring you will be yours. God bless you."

HEAT SPELLS FAIL TO AFFECT LIMA WATER SUPPLY

Water consumption during the hot weather remains normal, figures compiled by the city waterworks show.

Throughout the entire summer during hot spells and during days of comparative coolness the meters at the pumping station have indicated between 4,000,000 and 4,500,000 gallons a day.

Enough water is to be found in the reservoirs to last until late next spring even though no more pumping would be done, it is estimated. There is no danger of a water shortage in Lima, officials state.

JACKSON WANTS INSPECTOR

Requests for Criminal Court Affidavits Need Investigation

An officer who could be detailed to the investigation of complaints made direct to Criminal court, is desired by Judge Emmett Jackson, who presides there, he said Friday.

Frequency of complaints, arising from family or neighborhood quarrels, reach the police department only in the form of a report which does not warrant the attention more pressing business demands, the judge points out. Police advise a visit to court.

Nevertheless, he says, such cases must be untangled and settled, for the welfare of the parties concerned, and the peace of the city.

TRY TO SETTLE
"Sometimes, the one who reaches court first, files the affidavit and gets the conviction," the judge added. "The information given the court is not sufficient for a thorough understanding of the case. In every case where it is possible, we settle the matter without charges of any kind being filed."

Upon other occasions, the judge declares, he finds it necessary to inform complaining parties that he can have nothing to do with their case.

An inspector for the court, similar to the private detectives employed by the county for the county prosecutor, would enable a more thorough and satisfactory solution of these petty squabbles, the judge believes.

The inspector, unbiased, could investigate complaints of this nature, making a report to the judge that would indicate definitely whether or not there is just cause for action and the kind of action necessary.

2 MILLION BOOST IN CLERGY PAY

Salary Increase Reported at Episcopal Convention

PORTLAND, Ore.—(Associated Press).—Review of the work of the three years of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States and plans for the coming triennial occupied a joint session of the house of bishops and the house of deputies today at the forty-seventh triennial convention of the church here.

Addresses were made by Bishops Burleson of South Dakota, Tucker of Southern Virginia, Brent of Western New York, by Lewis B. Franklin, vice president and treasurer of the council and by John Stewart Bryan, proprietor and editor of the Richmond, Va., News Leader.

Bishop Thomas F. Gaylor, who has been president of the house of bishops and the council, had a detailed report on the work of the council which was created at the last triennial convention at Detroit.

The church pension fund, he said, represented that salaries of clergy during the year 1920 were increased $1,418,000 and during 1921 by $927,000, a total of $2,415,000.

The council, he said, underwrote the entire budget of the continental domestic missionary bishops.

The department of missions reported having sent to the domestic and foreign fields during 1920, eighty missionaries, in 1921, 72 missionaries and in 1922, fifty-one missionaries.

Jewell Reported in Agreement With 8 or 10 Roads

PARLEYS OPEN AT CHICAGO

B. & O. President Among the Leaders in Conference

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON.—(Associated Press).—Administration leaders who have kept in especially close touch with the industrial situation declared today that settlement of the shopmen's strike on a number of railroads was "probable" as a result of conferences in Chicago.

NEW YORK.—(United Press).—Bert M. Jewell, head of the striking shopmen, after conference with railroad executives, has agreed to a plan for settlement of the rail strike on eight or ten roads, according to the Dow Jones financial agency, today.

The agency says Jewell conferred with President Warfield of the Seaboard Air Line and with Senator Cummins.

LEADERS IN CONFERENCE
CHICAGO.—(United Press).—Leaders in the new rail peace move are holding conferences in Chicago, today, preliminary to the meeting of the shopmen's policy committee, Monday.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, arrived here secretly and went into conference with half a dozen western road executives.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the shopmen, was expected today. Jewell has been mysteriously absent since the Daugherty injunction was granted. It was believed that Jewell and Willard would confer.

Willard, who has been a leader in the individual agreement proposition since the strike, conferred with W. H. Finley, president of the Chicago and Northwestern, Hale Holden, president of the Burlington; James E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island, H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific.

Jewell, upon his arrival, will go into immediate session with his executive committee which is perfecting plans for the policy meeting Monday.

DENIED BY ROADHEADS
Despite the persistent rumors of peace, rail executives generally continued to deny that they were entering into any agreement with the shopmen.

President A. H. Smith, of the New York Central, and President Finley of the Northwestern, denied they were prepared to make separate agreements. These two roads were reported leaders in the latest peace move. Both declared they had not been represented at any conference and denied they had any knowledge of the alleged terms of settlement.

The terms provide for a small wage increase and the restricted return of seniority rights.

Because of continued denial by many rail executives of participation in a new peace proposal, it was indicated that only a minority of carriers were planning to give up the "finish fight."

Other rail executives, who deny any knowledge of peace are: A. G. Wells, vice-president of the Santa Fe; "Shopmen's leaders realize the strike is lost. Strike settlement with the American Federation of Labor is now an impossibility."

Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific—"The shopmen's strike is irretrievably lost. However, we can employ all the men we can get and are willing to return pension rights to these men who go back to their jobs before September 15."

Hale Holden, president of the C. B. & L—the C. B. & O. is taking no part in any negotiations toward settlement of the shopmen's strike.

Charles L. Lilly, president of the Northern Pacific—"We have no thought of entering into negotiations for settlement."

GENERAL STRIKE PLANS
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(United Press).—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor today planned to place the question of a general strike because of the Daugherty "injunction" before the executive council of the federation.

The demand of many of our unions for a general strike will not be ignored," said Gompers. "I will place the matter before the council, and we will act in accordance with our conscience and not with any fear of the attorney general."

The council of the federation is to meet here tomorrow, and will probably last a week.

Gompers said the demand for labor for a sympathetic strike is becoming more insistent.

Several unions have adopted resolutions, favoring a general strike and hundreds of others are on record favoring a nation-wide walkout, according to Gompers.

COUNTY IS VICTOR

Commissioners May Straighten Bice-rd. Court Holds

Legal barriers blocking the straightening of a dangerous curve in Bice-rd. were cleared away Friday when Judge Fred C. Becker dissolved an injunction obtained by the Illinois Pipe Line Co. against the county commissioners.

A temporary order was granted the pipe line corporation more than a year ago. Recently the company asked that the order be made perpetual. Straightening of the highway, would place company lines on county property, attorneys contended.

Judge Becker in an opinion Friday declared the county commissioners have the power to improve the road in any manner they deem best for public interest, and it is not the province of the court to interfere.

CRUSHED GREEKS MAY LOSE KING

Constantine Reported as Likely to Abdicate Throne

CABINET MEMBERS RESIGN

Army Smashed by Onslaught of Turk Forces

PARIS — (Associated Press) — Rumors that King Constantine of Greece intends to abdicate are current in several European capitals. They are considered here to have been given some color by the sudden recall of the Greek heir apparent, Prince George, to Athens from Bucharest.

King Constantine's abdication is regarded here as an increased possibility, particularly as it is considered the only method of getting former Premier Venizelos, Greece's war-time leader, to return to Athens form a coalition government, make an effort to restore order in Greek affairs and regain a part of Greece's lost prestige.

GREEK CABINET QUIT

ATHENS — (Associated Press) — The evacuation of Asia Minor by the Greeks as a result of the successful offensive against their army by the Turkish Nationalists is accepted here as a foregone conclusion, although it has not been announced officially.

Meanwhile the cabinet has resigned as a result of the Greek reverses and a new ministry is in process of formation, King Constantine having asked former Premier Kalligeros to get a new cabinet together.

A telephone message from the Greek commander in the field says that General Tricoupi, who had been appointed to the command, and General Digenis were captured by Turkish cavalry while they were proceeding to join the Greek corps at Alashehr, east of Smyrna. The taking of these generals with their staffs was not connected with the reported loss of their army corps, according to seemingly reliable information, this corps eventually retreating in the direction of Alashehr.

Refugees from Smyrna are already arriving here.

General Polimenakos has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Greek forces in Asia Minor following the capture of General Tricoupi.

GREEK ARMY SMASHED

SMYRNA — (Associated Press) — Only an eyewitness can realize the extent of the disaster to the Greek army which is termed by many one of the most decisive in military history.

An army of 150,000 men, well organized and equipped, has been transformed in less than two weeks into a virtual band of refugees.

An official Turkish statement says 400 Greek officers and 10,000 men have been captured, together with much material.

The Greek loss of morale is illustrated by the reported refusal of a battalion of reserves rushed here from Athens, to disembark.

The whole of Smyrna hinterland has been ravaged by the Turks and refugees continued to pour into the city by the thousands. A Turkish airplane yesterday flew over the town and dropped pamphlets announcing the "complete liberation" of Asia Minor.

The government archives have been placed on shipboard and the Smyrna branches of the National Bank and the Bank of Athens are closed.

A number of American destroyers are anchored in the harbor which with its concentration of warships of all the powers resembles the scene of a huge naval pageant.

The Standard Oil Company has chartered a number of steamships to carry its property and personnel to safety and thirty ships are in readiness to remove refugees to the outlying islands if necessary.

The Greek troops have taken up positions on the outskirts of the city.

LIGHT SURVEY IS UNDER WAY

Lower Power Rates May Result From Canvass

A second survey of the city's street lights has been started by F. G. Sterling, representative of the Ohio Power Co., City Manager Bingham said Friday.

Sterling has arrived in the city to confer with the city as to its needs at the present time and in the future with the desire to cut the rates for power to some extent, it was announced.

A list of street lights which the Ohio Electric claims it is operating has been presented to the city. An immediate check will be made to determine whether all the lights are burning.

There is a margin of 25 lamps between the number which the company claims are working and what the city's survey shows. As a number of lights have been ordered by the city it is possible they have been installed since the survey was made, Bingham said.

While every effort is being made to have the rate question for street lights settled immediately, it is feared that the time is too short to have a definite answer ready by Monday night, power officials say.

Frank Espy is now conferring with the officials of the American Gas and Electric Co., owners of the Ohio Power Co., in an effort to obtain lower rates for the city of Lima, not only as to street lighting but also as to power users, Bingham said.

GIRL'S CONDITION IS UNCHANGED

Gladys Piper Lingers Near Death at City Hospital

Unconscious for four days, Gladys Piper, 17, Lakeview, is wavering between life and death as the result of an automobile accident in which she was injured last Monday night, according to reports from City hospital, Friday.

A policy of careful attention and watchful waiting has been adopted in caring for the girl. Her case is said to be baffling attending physicians. They can see little hope for her recovery.

The Piper girl dropped into the state of unconsciousness shortly after she was brought to the hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Orpha Rogart, Lakeview, who became a patient at the hospital as the result of a recent illness and a nervous breakdown following her arrival at the bedside of her daughter here, is reported to be recovering.

Improvement in the condition of Tom Orphan, Bellefontaine, driver of the car, and Hazel Hemminger, 17, Lakeview, also injured during the accident, is reported.

The two men were captured following the slaying of City Detective William Martin, of Toledo, made the confession after a night of grilling, police said.

The bandits were said to have made their confession to a Kansas City detective, who came here with Bertillon measurements.

MEN IDENTIFIED

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Three bandits who engaged in a gun battle with Toledo, Ohio, police Wednesday, which resulted in the death of one policeman and one bandit were identified here today as members of a gang of holdup men which recently terrorized Kansas.

Pictures and Bertillon measurements of the men were sent to Chicago by the Toledo police. Detective Stanley Beatty of Kansas City, Kan., declared the men were members of a band of five, who held up a bank at Bonner Springs, August 24, and killed a deputy sheriff.

He said the five also held up a Kansas City, Kan., garage on September 1, and engaged in a gun battle in which a policeman and a detective were wounded, two of the bandits were captured.

HELD FOR ROBBERY

His arrest was effected by information given police by a taxi driver who says he was forced at the point of a gun to drive Udwin to the bank. The taxi driver sped away while Udwin was inside the bank holding Edward Fitzgerald, a teller.

Police for several hours followed a false clew of a green roadster, claiming it beyond Springfield and then losing trace of it.

With Udwin's arrest $2,620 was recovered. Police are seeking the remainder of the loot.

Udwin after holding the teller, ran into an alley and changing his clothing merged and walked away.

THIEVES HURL EGG AT HOUSE AFTER ROBBERY

Apparently disgusted with the insignificance of their loot, thieves who entered the home of Mrs. J. Conway, 416 W. Elm-st., dashed the one egg they made away with, against the side of the house, and departed, police were told Friday.

The icebox at her home was ransacked Thursday night, Mrs. Conway reported. The egg, later found splattered on the side of the house, was the only thing taken.

I SPIED TODAY

WELL, how many "I spys" did you see today and where did you see 'em? Isn't it fun, once you get started to look about you and remember the odd, funny little things that occur daily, but which no one has ever before taken the trouble to remember and relate to the rest of us?

In today's mail was a heap of observations, and maybe you think the I-Spy editor doesn't have a good time reading them all, and choosing the four winners. Too bad we cannot award each and every contributor instead of only four, but the rule is, one ticket to the New Orpheum theatre for each of the four best answers submitted. And "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Here are the four lucky ones, chosen from today's contributions of "I spys."

AN OBLIGING PARROT

"While I was at Lakeview last week," writes Evelyn Winocndert, 508 Harrison-av., "I was very much amused at a parrot in the cottage next to ours. One morning a party in a machine drove by, looking right and left for someone. As they passed the parrot, it cried 'Hello, hello'. One of the men said, 'Oh there they are', and stopped the machine and came into the cottage. They were very much surprised when they saw it was a parrot and left hurriedly, the parrot screaming peacefully, 'Goodbye, goodbye'."

FRESH PAINT INDEED

Miss Lippincott, 426 Shawnee-st., says the funniest thing she has seen for a long time happened on Market-st., the other night. A man, wearing glasses, had parked himself against a light post. Evidently he had not seen the 'Fresh Paint' sign on the post, and the way he was stationed there, intended to stay some time. "No one had he heard to tell him," says Miss Lippincott, "and the last I saw of him, he was still leaning there."

ANY JELLY TARTS TODAY

Alvin Zurlbach, 375 S. Jackson-st., relates the following: "Tuesday evening, a slightly unsteady man was going east on Eureka, with a large white bag in his hand. As he came to the track, he stumbled over the rail and the bag burst, sending a dozen jelly tarts into the street. The man picked them up and had all but two, when he stumbled again and the tarts went rolling down the track."

A passing pedestrian, noticing his plight, told him to try again, as the tarts were practically unhurt. "Sure, they're alright," came from the happy one, "go ahead and help yourself."

DEAR, DEAR, THESE DOCTORS.

Mrs. D. Mort, 503 N. Main-st. tells of an incident that occurred while she was waiting to see her doctor, in his office in the Citizens Bldg. While awaiting her appointment, another young doctor came into the office and engaged himself in conversation with three or four young girls. While talking he took out a case of cigarettes, also a match. Then he put the match in his mouth and tried to light the cigarette on the match box, and not until he had tried three times and had broken the cigarette, did he notice what he was doing. Yes, indeed, they were mighty attractive young ladies!

The following answer, while not a winner of a ticket to the New Orpheum, is passed along for your perusal.

"A neighbor's little girl came into the yard to play," says Laurens Cruca, 123 E. McKibben, "and seeing some puppies, picked one up and put it in her mouth. A man of water, saying she was teaching it to drink. The puppy absolutely refused to be taught, and the little girl, becoming angry, threw it violently to the ground and exclaimed, 'Alright, you dumbell, den don't dink.'"

OIL LIGHT BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 699 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one free to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

FAIR BOARD WILL WAGE CAMPAIGN

Bond Issue to be Discussed at Meeting Saturday

Prosecuting Attorney E. T. Lippincott will confer with the Allen-co fair board at its meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. in the court house, relative to the proposed bond issue of $85,000 to provide new fair grounds.

Steps will be taken immediately, Secretary G. D. Creamean said, to boost the proposition for the November election and a committee may be appointed to enlighten the public concerning the need.

It is probable, it was stated, that the chamber of commerce, farm bureau, granges, merchants and other organizations and individuals may be asked to participate in a six weeks' campaign preceding the election November 7.

Creamean said a petition may be certified with the board of elections next week.

Winners of class premiums at the fair August 22-25 are assured checks will be in their hands early next week. The fair board will take up that matter first, Creamean said. These premiums total over $5,000. The fair board has until October 15 to pay them.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS DEFENDED BY BALFOUR

GENEVA — (Associated Press) — A defense of the league of nations council against criticisms which have been directed at it was made by the Earl of Balfour at the opening of today's discussion in the assembly of the work accomplished by the league.

The adverse criticisms of the council for its method of directing the administration of the Saar Valley, said the Earl, who explained that he was speaking as a member of the council but not for that body, were the result of intense propaganda being carried on not only in the Saar but even among the members of the assembly with a view to influencing the plebiscite to be held in 1935 to decide the sovereignty of the district.

The speaker resented the charges that had been made by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen that the nations of the world had been guilty of neglect in relieving the Russian famine. Charity, he said, had done all that could have been expected in the circumstances.

OFFERS $500 FOR GRAVE MESSAGE

Oregon Doctor Awaits Counter-sing From Dead Wife

MEDIUMS WORK ON CASE

Letters Pour in From all Parts of Country

(BY PHILIP J. SINNOTT)
PORTLAND, Ore. — From all parts of the country letters are pouring in to Dr. J. Albert Gilbert, physician and student of psychic phenomena, each one declaring it carries a message from his dead wife.

But Gilbert still retains the $500 which he posted in a Portland bank. He declares none of the writers has been able to convey him the tidings he seeks from the Great Unknown.

"I believe the letters were written in full sincerity," declares Dr. Gilbert. "But such a state of affairs can mean only one thing. Each is getting something from himself or herself. They simply do not understand the nature of the phenomena they are getting."

In 1917, with her death growing near, Dr. Gilbert and his wife arranged a countersign, to be transmitted by her from beyond the grave. For four years he waited, but with no manifestation.

CHALLENGE ISSUED
Then came Sir A. Conan Doyle with his belief in spiritualism. He intended to give all the opportunity possible for indirect communication of the long looked for countersign. Dr. Gilbert posted $500, and issued a plea and a challenge to Doyle and spiritualists mediums. The response was a heavy receipt of letters, ranging from "I love you" to the same.

At this time he will reveal the countersign which was agreed upon between himself and his wife.

The offer still stands good. It will stand, Gilbert declares, until those interested in spiritualism have exhausted every opportunity to bring him the countersign he seeks.

Dr. R. A. Buchanan, savings building, is not out of the city, regardless of the fact that such a report is being circulated.

UGLY? WHAT DO YOU THINK? IS COLLEGE PROFESSOR RIGHT?

WHAT DO YOU THINK? Dr. A. S. Warthin, pathologist of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, is reported to have declared that dimples and cupid's bow mouths are of the same class, so far as beauty is concerned, with harelips and cleft palates. Take a look at Justine Johnstone, Miriam Cooper, Margarita Fischer, Mary Miles Minter and Gloria Swanson, movie stars. Is the professor right?

TOURIST TRAFFIC PROFITABLE

Road Building Cost Paid Back, Auto Club Shows

That the cost of road building in Allen-co will be paid back to the residents in money derived from tourist traffic, is the opinion of Lima Automobile club officials, based on figures compiled by the Dominion of Canada on the profit accruing from tourists.

American tourists spent more than $108,000,000 in Canada during the past year, reports of the Canadian interior department officials disclose.

A total of 615,074 cars entered the Dominion from the United States, during the period, each machine remaining for less than 30 days. Each car was checked in and out of the country, and an account of moneys taken in by visitors and the amount on hand when returning south of the border computed.

The increase in tourist traffic to Canada is more than 600 per cent for the past year over any year previous, the report states.

MRS. HARDING IS RAPIDLY RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Harding, wife of President Harding, was reported today to be rapidly improving from an attack of hydro nephrosis, which has kept her bedfast for the past ten days.

It was reported at the White House that there is no cause for alarm for Mrs. Harding's condition. Mrs. Harding's illness has been a recurrence of an old trouble which she has suffered at since she underwent a surgical operation in 1913. In this case, the illness was aggravated by a cold she caught while cruising in August.

RESURRECTION ROCK

By EDWIN BALMER

ETHEL HASTENED DOWN AND FOUND HER GRANDFATHER.

"Think over it a minute."

"Why?"

"Why wouldn't I have him there? He couldn't tell you, I wouldn't. I thought I'd never have to; but you've forced me. This fellow you call Loutrelle.

"You believe that your father—so Benet's been telling me—got in touch with this fellow called Loutrelle after your father died? That started your interest in him?"

"Yes."

"Why do you suppose your father did that? Why did he pick him, I mean?"

"Why—why, grandfather: he was going to meet me. Father knew that, some way—"

"Tomfoolery! Look here, your father was killed, and after he was dead—so you think—he tried to talk to this Loutrelle. So let's just take your own information; your father's spirit, the first thing after he was dead, goes about looking for a fellow named Barney Loutrelle. Now spirits—all I've heard of—usually go first for those closest to 'em, don't they?"

"Why, usually, grandfather."

"Well, what makes you think this is an exception?"

Ethel shrank back, comprehending less his words than the ugliness of his inflection.

"What do you mean?" she demanded.

"Well, who more natural for a father to seek than his son?"

"My father!" Ethel said. "You're talking about my father?"

"Before he was your father. I knew him! He was about St. Florian quite a little in the old days—quite a little! You may remember I would not have him marry my daughter. So they ran off. I knew—there was a girl to go to Resurrection Rock."

Ethel flung herself at him and with her little fists clenched tight she pummeled him on the chest.

"You lie—you lie—you lie! My father: You lie—you lie—"

He caught her fists and held her brutally before him. He saw that he had not at all convinced her; but he had not expected to simply by this statement of the false before combining it with what was true. He was too old and shrewd in experience to fail to know how a truth told may carry with it a lie.

"Who was his father then?" he demanded of his granddaughter, half shaking her. "Do you know?"

Then tell me! I don't know, of course; paternity's not like maternity; but his mother—Do you know who she was? Agnes here!"

Suddenly he dropped Ethel and gestured horribly with both hands.

"Your father and your father's friend—Agnes!"

"Oh! Oh! God!" Ethel cried.

Her grandfather said not another word; he stood for only a moment more, looking at her; then, satisfied, he pulled on his hat and stalked to the door.

In the whirl of her emotions, she was endeavoring to fasten thought upon Barney only as cousin Agnes's son; but against her will, and revolving her, thoughts of her father would come in.

Oh, last night he had taken her as a lover, Agnes's son and—her father's? She was here in Agnes's house—Agnes who might have been—might have been—

She heard some one coming and, starting up, she saw cousin Agnes's housekeeper, Mrs. Wain usually so calm so completely in control of herself advanced under a nervous tension which visibly shook her slight body. Her words confessed she had been listening.

"What was he saying to you of Mrs. Oliver Cullen?" she besought, her hands trembling on Ethel's shoulder. "What was he telling to you? Oh, you must tell me; he said Mrs. Cullen—"

"Nothing about her now!" Ethel cried. "I mean, he was talking about her long ago. But—but suddenly she collapsed in the housekeeper's arms. 'I'm going away; home to Wyoming, Mrs. Wain. You must help me off. And if Mr. Loutrelle calls for me or telephones, I can't speak to him! I can't see him! Perhaps—perhaps I can write. I must never meet him again!'"

CHAPTER XVI

Early that afternoon Lucas's dependable operative reported that he had followed Ethel Cullen to the Union Station where she purchased a ticket and boarded a train for Sheridan, Wyoming. She had been unattended and plainly under the stress of strong emotion.

What Ethel had told Barney was brief and simple in its final statement.

"Dear Barney:

"I have found that I must leave at once for my home. Some time later, I shall know how to explain what must seem madness to you. Now I can not.

"Where you are and how you are and what you are doing remain with me the most important things in my life; so you must let me know all about yourself. My address will be Sheridan, Wyoming.

"ETHEL."

It was several days later that Mrs. Wain, the housekeeper, phoned a request for him to call.

"I speak to you, sir," Mrs. Wain said breathlessly, after she had sunk into the seat, "upon my own responsibility, sir, entirely. So I must ask you, before I say another word, to give me your word as a gentleman that you will make no use of what I shall tell—unless I allow you."

Barney felt his pulses pounding again. "What is it?" he demanded.

"You will meet me, sir—when you're sure you're not followed?"

"Where?"

"At the corner of Teath and Wash."

Barney went immediately downtown. He had to wait on the corner only a few minutes before Mrs. Wain drove up in a taxi and invited him in.

"St. Luke's Hospital," she said to the driver, and when the door was closed, she vouched to Barney.

"She's had another operation; it was performed the day before yesterday. She rallied at first but sank later."

Still the housekeeper gave no indication of who "she" was; and Barney was aware that direct inquiry would be vain.

Barney did not know her; when the nurse, who had been beside the bed, moved away, and Mrs. Wain held back and Barney advanced alone, he was not conscious of ever having seen the woman who lay on her side with her profile plain against the pillow. Yet a fluttering of awe—of more than awe—came over him as he halted silently beside the bed.

Her face, as she lay turned toward him, was beautiful, the illness and intense suffering she had surely endured. Her skin was clear and lovely even in its deathly pallor; her hair—black and abundant—had clung to its luster as had her dark brows and the lashes which lay on her cheek. Even now the indomitable soul of her—that essence of her spirit which persisted in the consciousness long was gone—was keeping up the fight, Barney felt. And he wanted her to win; oh, how he wanted her to win!

It seemed to him he had never wished so for another's life; and why? Because, for the first time, he was beside some one who belonged to him by blood? Because she was his—mother?

The Sale Starts Saturday, September 9th

WE can't promise that this sale will last many days as it will continue Only until our stocks on hand are Sold.
With prices so low every garment should be sold immediately. We are sure you have never seen such low prices before. We Know We never have. We must ask you to bear in mind, that, low as the prices are the quality is the high standard for which The Deisel Co. always stands.

These are garments carried from our spring and summer seasons — as well as Fall garments bought for early season selling. All are the product of makers of smart attire. However, we are planning to make ours the outstanding ready-to-wear department in Northwestern Ohio under Mr. Buhl's management and the first step is to sell every garment we now have to give him a clear field.

Our New Buyer
Mr. C. W. Buhl, Says:

In taking over the management of The Deisel Co.'s ready-to-wear departments I have undertaken to develop here the leading apparel service in Northwestern Ohio.
With respect to the merchandise now on hand I have been given free rein and I have only one thing in mind—that is to sell immediately every dollar's worth of spring, summer and early fall goods now on hand before bringing in the new lines I have selected.

I am authorized to make this disposal complete, regardless of what the stock may bring, and to insure this desired result I have named prices that I believe to be without precedent. It will require only a glance at the offerings named in this advertisement to know that the merchandise is being sold far below manufacturer's cost. In fact many garments are offered below the cost of the bare materials used in the making. As soon as these stocks are disposed of—and it is not my intention to have one garment remaining at the end of the sale—we will bring in new lines that we feel will prove a delightful treat to the women of Lima. It has always been my earnest endeavor to build up a large clientele for departments under my management by emphasizing not only style, quality and attractive pricing, but likewise to emphasize courteous, intelligent service. I trust that as we become better acquainted you will find The Big Store to be not only the most satisfactory but the pleasantest place in Northwestern Ohio in which to shop. Yours to command

MOTHER'S IDEAS OUT OF DATE

Scientists to Demonstrate This in Baking of Bread

CHANCE OF MISHAP REMOVED

Modern Methods to be Shown at Convention

CHICAGO (Associated Press)—Scientists will attempt to demonstrate that mother's methods in baking are out of date when the Bakery exposition and conventions of national baker associations are held here September 11 to 16.

How modern scientific control has taken all chance and possibility of mishap out of what was once mother's "intuition" in getting a good bake of family bread will be shown at the exposition to be held on the municipal pier.

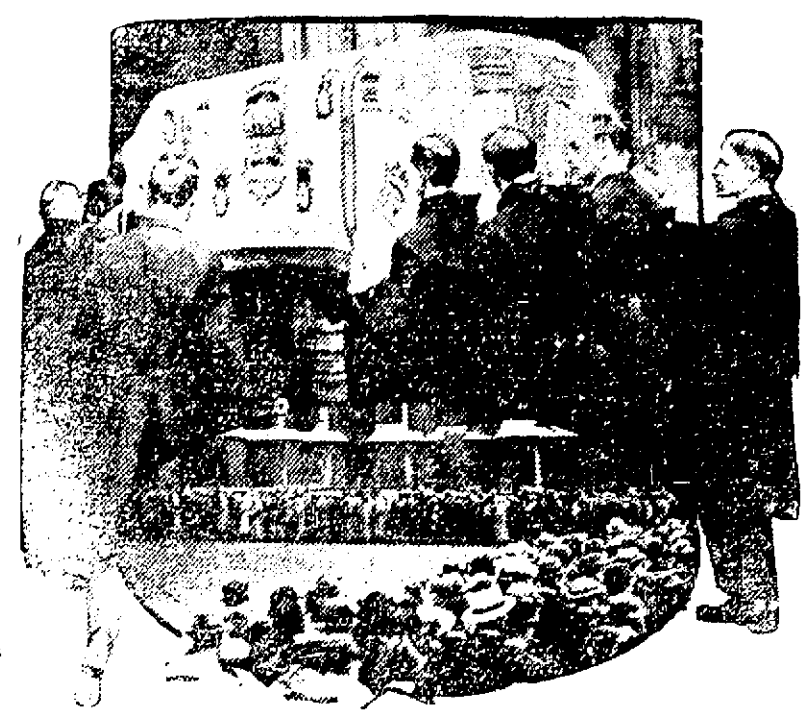

Huge steel-armed bread mixers, each having the strength and working force of 200,000 women, traveling ovens and other modern machinery will demonstrate the exactitude in the modern bake shop.

Progress of the baking industry within the last fifteen years will be shown in machinery valued at more than $1,000,000 which will be in operation turning out bread, pies and cakes according to present day quantity production methods.

More than 6,000 bakers are expected to attend the exposition and the conventions of the various national baking organizations meeting at the same time.

Among the prominent speakers will be H. C. Spillman, who will talk on "The Man Behind the Loaf"; H. A. Wheeler, vice president of the Union Trust Co., Chicago; L. K. Russell, editor of "Baking Technology"; and Dr. W. W. Skinner, assistant chief of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry.

POINDEXTER MAY WIN NOMINATION

Washington Senatorial Fight
Watched With Interest

SEATTLE, Wash. (Special)—With the Washington senatorial primary set for Sept. 12, the outstanding issue is the fight of Senator Miles PoinDEXTER for renomination.

PoinDEXTER, who won a spectacular fight in 1910 when he secured the nomination as an incumbent, now has opposition of the same progressive forces, while former conservative opponents now are his strongest supporters in a fight for renomination on his record.

to narrow their candidates to one, and his renomination is assured, it is predicted.

Mrs. Frances Astell, first woman legislator in the state, has been named as PoinDEXTER's chief opponent by labor and woman's organizations.

George B. Lamping, father of the state bonus, and unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate, is seeking nomination as a progressive and claims heavy veteran support.

Both Lamping and Mrs. Astell agreed to reduce the field against PoinDEXTER to one progressive from an elimination board, but Judge Anton E. Griffiths, former campaign manager for PoinDEXTER, refused.

Opponents of PoinDEXTER are citing his action in the Newberry election case, when his vote was to seat Newberry. The press, which supported him in his incumbent campaign in 1910 is bitterly assailing him now. However, he has won the support of his former editorial enemies.

RACE IS ON FOR AIR SUPREMACY

European Nations Struggling for First Place

FRANCE IS NOW IN LEAD

Paris Concerned Mostly in Strides of Germans

(By MILTON BRONNER)
LONDON — (Special) — Supremacy in the air is the goal European nations are racing for. France leads the way, with England a close second and Germany a great question mark.

British engineers are trying to offset the numerical superiority of the best German brains are at work not only inventing new devices but also the restrictions put upon the development of the allies.

These developments are causing concern—especially to the French—because of their recent amazing success in perfecting gliders.

The claim may change the future of air history. The German glider remained aloft for two hours, the French could do so for one hour.

The reported manufacture in a neighboring country under German supervision of the powerful Zeppelin monoplane has added to the Zeppelin Staaken and its fears of possible invasion in the future and to preserve her military position on the continent.

France is best trained military service in the world. The French air ministry for a country stands first both in military and commercial aviation.

French aircraft factories, encouraged by the government, are turning out machines a month. France has more than 4,000 planes in her air force and defensive forces and by the end of next year proposes to have 12 squadrons, or nearly 2,000 planes in active duty. In addition there are 38 planes in civilian work and of being used for military purposes.

Commercial air travel is possible between London, Brussels, Amsterdam, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Lyons, Marseilles, between southern France and Barcelona, and a line between Morocco, between Paris and London.

France is besting herself as the result of a series in Parliament, it was authoritatively stated that the active British military force was 12 squadrons of which were stationed in Egypt.

At present the British planes in the air are in civil service. Some of them of value in civil service. Commercial air travel is possible between London and Paris.

David George has announced that a force of 500 machines is being provided for home defense at a cost of $10,000,000. The many and also to Holland and the city of Riga in Russia.

AVIATORS TO URGE NEW LAWS

"Make America First in Air," is
Their Aim

STEPS TO BE TAKEN SOON

Proposed Statutes May be Framed at October Meet

DETROIT, (Special) — Table
America First in the Air.

Federal legislation toward this end will be a key at the annual National Aviation Convention at Detroit, October 12-14, in connection with the meeting of the National Air Race for the Pulitzer trophy will be held. The contest race will be held here October 7, just preceding opening of the congress.

The United States officials declare, in without air laws which would safeguard aviation and commercial flying and develop aerial transportation. This will be the result which the aviators will attempt to remedy.

At present, any aviator can navigate any part of the country, whether worthy or not, as long as he can get it off the ground. An attempt will be made at the conference to have this class of airplane which is held the greatest menace to the development of flying, out of the air. Ninety per cent of accidents, it is said,
are due to unworthy machines.

IS POTENTIAL OUTLAW

The Wadsworth bill, now in the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, will be used for purpose. It is said that bill will provide many of the necessary air laws favored by the conference.

Meanwhile the aviator is a potential outlaw. If he damages property in a forced landing, injures a passenger, tears up anyone's front yard, he can be proceeded under common law, and there is no aerial law or protection to protect him.
Aviators, as a result, desire wise and strict laws to protect the public,
their foolish and erring brothers,
and themselves.

American planes may not fly over Canada as the result of lack of inspection and registration. This drawback to inter-country flying will be set aside if the conference is successful in securing federal control of civilian flying. Army and navy fliers are an exception to the Canadian rule, since the Canadian Air Board has ruled that their record proves rigid training and general efficiency.

Development of commercial flying will be taken up at the congress. A bureau of civil aeronautics will be favored. Aerial transport services

CONTENDERS IN COMING AIR RACE

last year carried more than 150,000 pounds of parcel freight and 250,000 passengers.

In connection with the congress,
a national overland race is scheduled. Pilots from the army, navy and civilian line will take part. The race has entered 11 airplanes.

The Pulitzer trophy race is over a triangular course of 160 miles.

The national race is expected to bring out, under strenuous flying conditions, qualities of more than 40 recently developed airplanes.

SHOT AIMED FOR MILLERAND

Car at French Presidential Palace is Fired on

EXECUTIVE AT COUNTRY HOME

Assailant, Egyptian Student, is Seized by Guard

PARIS — (Associated Press) — Georges Salem, an Egyptian student, fired a shot at an automobile in front of the palace of the Elysee today, believing the car to be President Millerand's. The shot went into the air. President Millerand was at his country residence at Rambouillet at the time.

Salem, who is 19 years old, was seized by a guard as he fired the shot. The student collapsed, falling as if in a faint, apparently thinking he had been shot.

Carrying a small brown satchel, Salem came to the Elysee and asked for President Millerand, explaining to the guard who questioned him that he had a letter for the president.

Having a somewhat dazed look in Salem's face, the guard suspected the man was mentally unbalanced and took the letter, promising to deliver it to the president personally.

HITS ON CAR

At the youth suddenly inquired if the president's carriage had been in the palace, he apparently not knowing that M. Millerand was at Rambouillet. The guard unthinkingly replied that the automobile had just left. Salem then quickly drew a small revolver of an obsolete type and fired point blank at a car that happened to be in the front driveway of the Elysee. At the same time the guard seized Salem's arm, violently and the youth collapsed.

The Egyptian youth denied intending to shoot the president. He said he had written to M. Millerand for money when he failed to receive funds from his Egyptian relatives but the president failed to reply he had gone to the palace intending to commit suicide in the presence of the president as a form of protest against the chief executive's "indifference."

SECOND ATTACK

Today's incident at the palace of the Elysee was the second one this year in which an automobile believed to be carrying the president of the French republic has been fired upon. On July 14, as President Millerand and his official party were returning from the Bastille Day celebration at Longjumeau, three shots were fired at the automobile containing Prefect of Police Naudin by Gustave Pontet, an anarchist, in the belief that the car was President Millerand's. M. Naudin's automobile later proceeded the presidential carriage. Pontet declared he had planned to assassinate both President Millerand and Premier Poincaré.

U. S. CHALLENGED IN STRIKE INJUNCTION

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — A challenge to federal authorities to carry out to the letter the Daugherty strike injunction was issued today by the Memphis Press.

The paper printed in full the editorial written by Jacob Cohen, labor editor which resulted in his arrest. It also published an original editorial denouncing federal injunction as an attempt to curb free speech. If the court can take away the right of free speech by an injunction, either the court of the constitution is on of fear, the Press asserted.

HER RIVAL IS THE FROZEN NORTH

FREDERICK MAURER, ARCTIC EXPLORER, AND HIS WIFE

NILES, O. — (Special) — Would you leave your bride and a comfortable home to go exploring in the cold, bleak winds and desolation of the arctic?

Frederick G. Maurer a member of Stefansson's expeditions did just that thing. After a week's honeymoon he set sail. Now he's coming back to spend a few days—then off for the north again.

And his wife, Delphine Jones Maurer, says she's content.

"He has dedicated his life to exploring," she says. "I must not interfere."

Maurer is en route to Seattle aboard the S.S. Albatross from Wrangell Island, where he has been for seven months.

His wife soon will leave the home of her parents here to be with him for a few days before he again sails for the frozen north.

ALLEGED KING OF DOPE RING HELD

Arrested in Raid by New York Police

NEW YORK — (United Press) — The leader of the largest narcotic ring in the United States, according to the police and the headquarters in New York from which heroin, cocaine and opium were dispensed to hundreds of persons each day, was held by federal authorities today, following a spectacular raid by 60 agents on the Hotel Longacre, in the heart of the white light district.

Nine persons are under arrest, including the assistant manager and the clerk of the hotel, a prominent vaudeville actor and Charles Rogers, "the king pin dope seller" of the country according to the agents who fought off his car's with a long knife, before surrendering.

Narcotic Division Chief Ralph Oyster of the department of justice led the raid in person. A coroner was suddenly thrown around the hotel. Every one was ordered to remain inside. The clerk was placed under arrest and 140,000 worth of heroin, accessible beneath his counter, was seized.

Evidence that the drugs were sold to guests and charged in their bills as table fare was obtained. Persons from all parts of the country, alleged dope fiends, were questioned in the round-up.

Many actors and actresses, living at the Longacre, were trapped in the raid and were late for evening performances.

ORDERS PLACED FOR LARGE PASSENGER SHIPS

BUFFALO — The largest passenger ships ever built in the United States for service in inland waters, have been ordered by the Detroit and Cleveland Transportation Company from the American Shipbuilding Company at Cleveland.

The plans call for two vessels 544 feet long, 58 feet beam and fitted with side wheel propulsion. Six hundred staterooms will be installed in each ship accommodating close to 2,000 passengers in a single class.

HOUSES RAIDED IN SEARCH FOR POISON

NEW YORK — Heading a squad of uniformed policemen and detectives, District Attorney Ruston today raided every house in a block in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn, in an effort to find the source of the poisonous alcohol which has caused eleven deaths in the neighborhood.

The raiders were not equipped with search warrants but they visited every cellar in the block. Members of the party said they were unable to get warrants because the persons who gave information about the alcohol feared that if their connection with the search was known they would be killed.

DON'T BELIEVE IN SIGNS CITY SAYS

Officials Launch Drive to Eliminate Offensive Boards

SHOOT 'EM WITH CAMERA

More Beautiful City is Aim of City Manager

Lima is infested with signs of all kinds and characters, many of which have become nuisances and must be eliminated, city officials have decided.

In their move to eliminate the ugly and in many cases dangerous signs the officials have adopted modern methods and intend to get rid of them without going to court to do it.

C. A. Bingham, city manager, and Vaughn Miller, city engineer, fared forth into the city recently, in search of signs that were in conflict with the city's laws.

They found them everywhere. They were in the Public Square, in the residence district, in the factory district and every other portion of the city. They found a sign that should be removed, they took a photograph of it. When they had obtained a number of photographs they went back to the city hall, where they prepared to an order for their removal.

The same staffs. Mr. Business Manager is sitting in his office looking over his morning mail. Among the letters is one from the city manager and is quite bulky. He opens and reads a letter and a photograph. The photograph shows a sign erected by the said businessman in violation of the law. The letter is polite, courteous, but at the same time firmly, that the offending sign be removed at once.

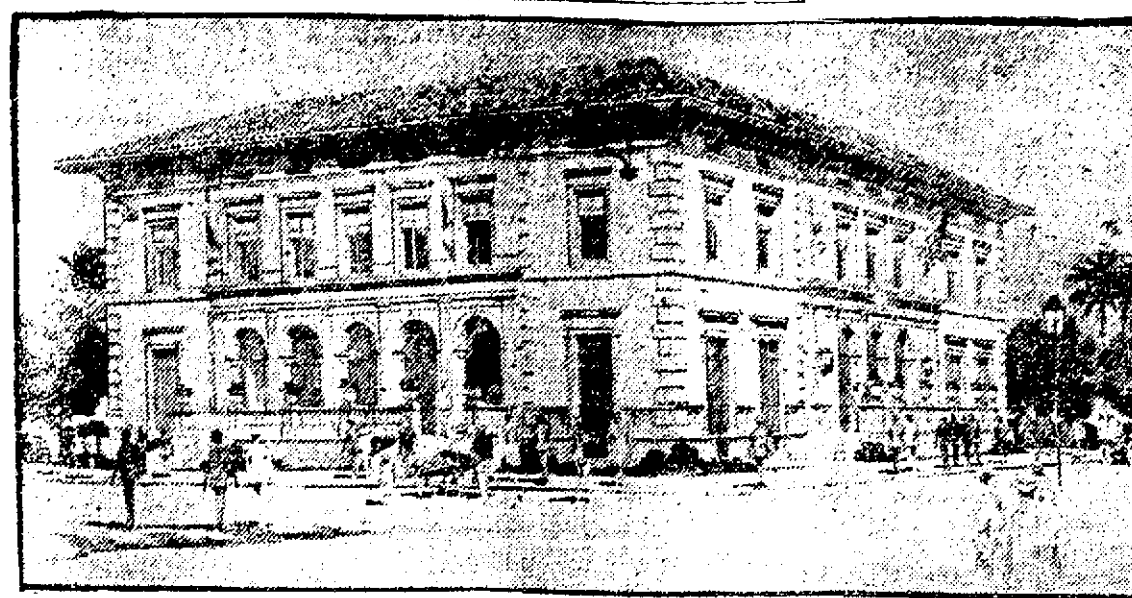

Results have been very encouraging, Bingham says. The men responsible for erecting the signs are following out the requests of the city and are removing them without making it necessary to start a court action.

It is planned to photograph many more offending signs and confront the owners with evidence that the law is being violated. This will make for a better and more beautiful city, city officials believe.

RUSSIA SPLIT UP IN 27 NATIONS

This is Result of Changes Made
Under Soviet Rule

Division of Czar Nicholas' Realm Are Shown

PETROGRAD — (Associated Press) — American boys who have to learn the boundaries of the countries of the world and their capitals will have a hard time when makers of geography incorporate the new division of the Russian Empire in their schoolbooks.

The Russian empire which Czar Nicholas ruled is now split up into 27 nations which are all federated with the Soviet government. A new official map issued by the Soviet government shows all these divisions of what was once European and Asiatic Russia.

Finland and Poland are not included in this map. Although they were members of the Russian Empire, they complete independence has been organized. Also Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, the new Baltic states, which have just been recognized by the United States, are not included in the Moscow government. There are really 32 new nations, but there was only one before Soviet rule prevailed in Russia.

These are now parent Soviet republics, embracing practically all of Central and Northern European Russia and Siberia. Moscow is the capital. Many of these governments which have been set up in remote sections and sparsely populated territory are of various sizes. Some of them are smaller than others, but all are autonomous.

The Lithuanian republic with its capital at Kaunas embraces the northern part of Southern Russia and the Baltic coast. This is the richest of agricultural Russia and contains the greatest deposits of coal. It was thrust into existence under the Czar's government.

Practically all of Siberia west of the Ural mountains is included in the Far Eastern republic with its capital at Chita. To the south of this is the Mongolian republic with its head at Ulaanbaatar. This was really not Russian territory, but belonged to China before the war. China still insists that it owns Mongolia and denies the existence of the new Soviet republic which Russia has created. Mongolia had limited autonomy before war, but Russia dominated it and claimed it as its sphere of influence, steadily refusing to allow American railway constructors to take concessions which would touch this territory.

The Karelian Workmen's Commune, with its capital at Petrozavodsk, lies north of Petrograd, adjoining Finland, and has recently been the scene of considerable fighting between Finns and Soviet troops. It is a sterile and worthless country, but because of its strategic position commanding the railway to Kola Russia's only ice-free coast on the north, is of great importance.

Minsk is the capital of the White Russian Republic, which is of great importance because it adjoins Poland and the new Baltic state of Lithuania. The Crimean republic, with its capital at Simferopol, includes Sevastopol and several other important Black Sea ports.

The Georgian and Azerbaijan Republics are of great importance because they include the great Russian oil supply which European nations covet more than any other. Their Russian possession. Their capitals are Tiflis and Baku.

Bokhara, the land of rugs, with a capital of the same name, is listed as one of the Soviet republics which Moscow has created east of the Caspian. Khiva, the land formerly ruled by the khan of Khiva who is now a prisoner in Moscow, is now slated as a republic with its capital at Khiva. The Daghestan government has a capital named Temir-Khan-Schura.

PREACHER READY TO SPRING TRAP

Des Moines Minister to Hang Condemned Murderer

BECOMES DUTY AS SHERIFF

Execution Will Take Place on September 15

DES MOINES, Ia. — (Associated Press) — Intervention of executive clemency apparently is all that will forestall Winifred E. Robb, minister and former chaplain of the 168th Infantry, Rainbow division, from carrying out the execution by hanging of Eugene Weeks condemned murderer of George Fossdick, Des Moines grocer, at 12 o'clock noon, Friday.

September 15. So far as known Robb will be the first minister to act in such a role.

"My duty is clear," Sheriff Robb said. "The law specifically provides that the sheriff of the county in which a prisoner is convicted of first degree murder, shall attend to the details of the hanging or detail the task to his deputies."

Sheriff Robb states that while he favors capital punishment he does not believe in hanging.

To justify his actions, the former chaplain quotes from the Bible as follows: "Whosoever sheddeth blood by man shall his blood be shed." He says the Bible is full of examples of capital punishment.

RESIGNS PASTORATE: Sheriff Robb until recently was pastor of the Urbandale Federated church here. When it appeared that the date of Weeks' execution would come during his term of office as sheriff, Robb resigned his pastorate. He explained that he did not want his acts as sheriff to cause embarrassment to members of his church.

Robb's career as sheriff of Polk county, the most thickly populated in Iowa, has been a spectacular one. On October 27, unless intervention is made, he or one of his deputies will be obliged to hang Orrie Cross, accomplice of Weeks in the slaying of Fossdick.

Robb was decorated with the distinguished service cross during the war for extraordinary heroism displayed in attending to the needs of the men of his regiment during the drive against the enemy at Chateau-Thierry. His citation shows that "during all of this time, and particularly during the operation near Serav, he showed the greatest coolness under severe artillery fire in attending to the needs of the men of his regiment." Robb recently was selected as the democratic candidate for congress from the seventh Iowa district.

OPEN LETTERS

To General Byng

DEAR CLARENCE: Have you read the recent statement of President Samuel Vaulchain of the Baldwin Locomotive Works? In that he said that congress' adjournment for four and state legislatures' for ten years would end most of our troubles. He meant, of course, that we have too much regulation.

Each day as I pick up my newspapers I read that we are going to regulate something else. Strikes me, Clarence, that we are going to be the most regulated city in the country pretty soon. Too much is worse than not enough.

To Motorists

MY FRIENDS: The schools of my city have opened. Thousands of youngsters go to and from the sixteen buildings daily. Please be careful, when driving near a school house. I am mighty proud of my boys and girls and can't afford to lose a single one thru carelessness on your part.

LIMA BEANE.

O O O O O

To Chief Lanker

DEAR TOM: I liked the way you loaded up the old firearms and ammunition Wednesday and started out to hunt a fight with a gang of yeggs. You and your men were on the job and lost no time in getting started when you heard a band of desperadoes were headed this way from Toledo after killing a policeman and wounding another there.

If you had met them, you would have had the same experience Toledo policemen had when they overtook them near Wauseon and killed two and captured another. Yeggs, when they know a police force is always ready for a fight, are not so apt to take liberties.

LIMA BEANE.

O O O O O

To the Social Service Bureau,

Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, Secretary

DEAR MRS. JACKSON: Please permit me to thank you for your prompt attention in the matter of flood sufferers in my city this week. It is unusual for such things to happen at this time of year, but your activity proved to me that you are ready for all emergencies. I am glad to learn that only a few persons required assistance.

LIMA BEANE.

O O O O O

To the City Commission

GENTLEMEN: Thanks for arranging to have the daylight time proposition placed on the ballots at the coming election. It will give my people an opportunity to say whether they want to go on with the confusion we are now experiencing or go back to legal time for Ohio.

If I had only one guess, I'd say they will give the new-fangled idea a swift kick.

To Radio Fans

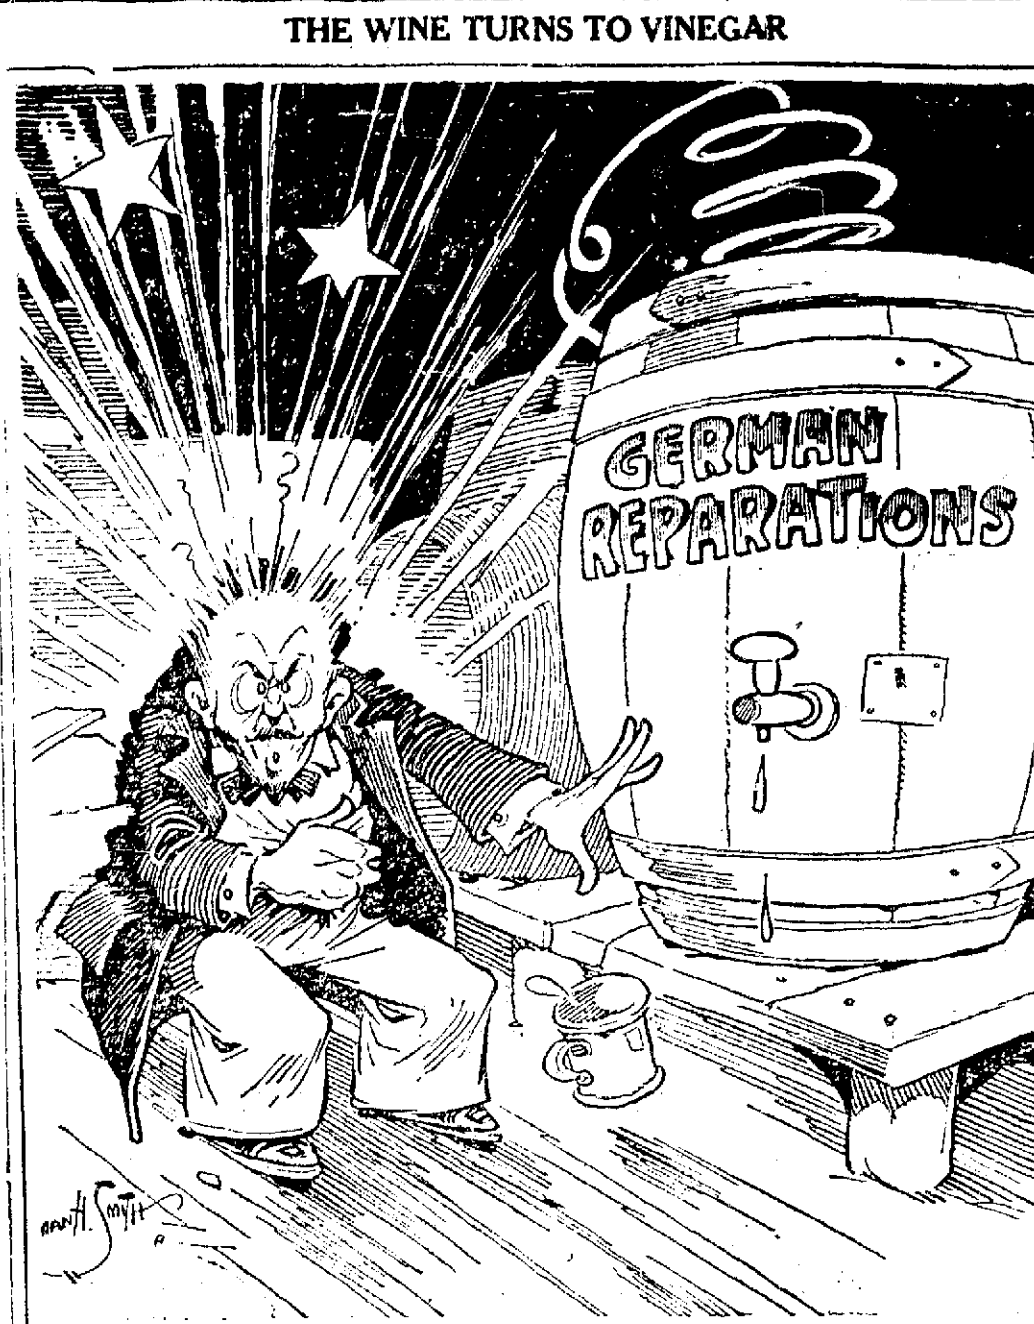

FRIENDS: Most of you have been experimenting with wireless for your own pleasure. Now you have an opportunity to turn it to some benefit to your community. I hope you will heed the request of Police Chief Lanker and tip his department off when you receive news of crimes in other cities. You may be of great assistance in running down crooks.

To Lima and Allen-co Students

MY BOYS AND GIRLS: My heart beat a bit faster and my pride swelled as I witnessed that fine army of youth marching off to school, text books under the arm of each. What possibilities in such an army!

The world is yours. All you've got to do is go after it, but don't think that it owes you a living. That you must dig out. You have the opportunity now to lay the foundations of great careers. They can't be established except by work and then more work. Keep at it, take advantage of your opportunity and you will never regret the effort when the time comes for you to put out in your own bark in the turbulent sea of life.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Street Department

BOYS: Recently you have been tarring a number of streets and then placing a coating of gravel over them. I have noticed that in some instances you have left tarred thoroughfares stand for a day or more before spreading the gravel. School children often are forced to walk thru the tar or go a long way around. If they walk thru it, mother probably has something to say when they get home. Why not gravel them immediately?

O O O O O

To Judge Jackson

DEAR EMMETT: Atta boy, Emmett! Collect the fines. If fines are not collected, there's no advantage in assessing them. If persons you befriend by allowing them time to pay fail to do so, get out the big stick and see that they come across. My city needs the cash and besides it will be a big help to your court to have the general public know that every time a fine is fixed it is collected.

Late Bud has built a cheap double house, an' now it's fifty fifty which he over works again or not. Th' smile in business wuz introduced thru th' palmy days o' th' war, an' it begins to look like th' kind that won't come off.

(Copyright, 1922.)

Radishes iced, and a sliver of cantaloupe, only a wee one in the house. And my wife, poor wretch, always a pleading therefor.

Abroad with films to the Camera shoppe, more monies escaping, which fear I can ill afford. This day it grows torrid, and wouldst that Noah was hereabout to summon a flood. He being the only man good thereat; as Prospero the only guy who ever stopped a storm. Out, to a painless dentist parlor, albeit if that doc doesn't take down his sign, I to the Good Business Bureau to stop his misrepresentation.

Bowed to Judge Mead; and parked with a Spring-st capitalist. Who told me a tale about the little daughter of the late Thornton Mitchell. Who set up her sign as "Dr. Mitchell," with two Red Cross nurses. And a tent for a hospital. Clever, methinks, and jolly well they must have enjoyed it. Youth, my youth; whence hath it gone?

Home to another family gathering. Lunching on ham, an iced salad and peaches and cream for the sweet. Visited long with Charlie Lynch of the Allen county money. In discourse over municipal affairs. When he was clerk of the courts and Harry Bentley the attorney-general of this town. In the post, a card from C. S. Brown and a clipping from the want-ad page. Saying, "evening meal will be served by a single man." Spinsters and widows will be saved old copies, but don't crowd the counter.

Waved to General Byng and Mayor Brud. In their corporation coach, after investigating sewers and disposal. The General has a fine physique and an artistry of temperament. But Brud methinks should take a vacation. Or smoke cigarettes a half hour before each meal. A recipe I learned for obesity while attending the Methodist seminary in Cincinnati. Where they turned good farmers into poor preachers.

Dined at Jake's Place. My first offense in more than a two-month. And a good menu, with a delectable sweet. Thence out to a cinema, Miss Talmadge doing even better than Jane Cowl in the speaking play. Chatted with Howard Miller, the contractor; and drank a choc parfait at Hunter's. In the evening read "This Freedom," by A. S. M. Hutchison, author of the famous "If Winter Comes." He, spending two years on this tale of a woman coming into her own. Based on Acts: 12:28. Met, too, Mrs. I. G. Hall, widow of a one-time Presbyterian minister, when Jeff Morris was in Sunday school. She, a highly cultured and interesting personage, with many old friends hereabout.

So, over a bot of near-beer which was never so much as chummy with the old style, ate a cheese sandwich and to bed.

Grapefruit and oranges, peaches and plums,
Raspberries, pineapples, strawberries too,
Give to the palate a thrill that becomes
Something to dream of, to seek
and pursue;
Blackberries, blueberries, cherries
and grapes
All have their virtues that hold
one in thrall,
Fruits of all flavors and colors and
shapes—
Ah, but the apple is King of them
all!

Greening and Pippin and Wealthy
and Snow,
Mackintosh, Baldwin and Winesap
and King,
Fruit to set anyone's senses aglow,
Fruit which would stir any poet
to sing;
Sweetened by sunshine and nourished by rain,
Given a zest by the keen days of
fall,
Food for the body, the nerves and
the brain,
Truly the apple is King of them
all!

Pleasant to munch in its natural
state,
Dulcet in apple-sauce, tasty in
pie,
Crushed into cider—oh boy, but it's great,
Nectar the Gods on Olympus
would prize;
Baked 't is ambrosia, fried—it is fine,
Good in a myriad different ways,
Pass me the apples, I'll eat eight or nine—
Best of all fruits that Dame Na-

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

DRINK MORE MILK

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Since milk is a typical natural food, used by civilized and uncivilized people alike, it seems worthy of some special consideration.

It is practically the only food which contains all the elementary principles in anything like the right proportions. It requires very little energy for digestion.

Milk is, however, not easily tolerated by some people, and in any case is very deficient in iron, so that anemia is almost sure to result from its over-use.

A good way to include more milk

REWARD OFFERED FOR GIRL

Daughter of Century Publishing Co. Head Missing

MOTHER FEARS ELOPEMENT

Believed Married to Kentucky Merchant's Son

GLASGOW, Ky. — (Associated Press.)—Reports from Nashville that a newly married couple answering the description of Miss Carolyn Shuster, pretty 18-year-old daughter of W. Morgan Shuster, president of the Century Publishing Company, New York, and William Morris, 20, son of a Glasgow merchant, had registered at a hotel there, formed the only clue today to the whereabouts of Miss Shuster, who has been missing since Wednesday night.

Miss Shuster and Mr. Morris, who were reported to have left Glasgow in an automobile together Wednesday night are believed to have eloped and the girl's mother, Mrs. Pearl Trigg Shuster, has offered a reward of $100 for her detention unmolested. Police in all cities of Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana have been asked to be on the lookout for her.

SCHOOL PLANS
Mrs. Shuster was to have left yesterday for Orange, N. J., to place her two daughters in a boarding school and some credence is given to the belief Miss Shuster might run away so that she would not have to resume her studies.

However, the elopement theory was strengthened by the two young men said to have left Wednesday night with the couple, who on their return yesterday refused to answer any questions.

Mrs. Shuster has been spending the summer at Glasgow, her former home, for many years.

BUYING EDUCATION

Children's Welfare Blamed for Liquor Operations by Farmer

Desire of W. O. Sockrider, 40, Shawnee-tp, farmer to educate his children led him into the toils of the law Thursday, when sheriff's officers raided his farm and discovered a 10-gallon still running full blast, he explained.

"I need money to keep my daughter in high school and give her advantages," he is reported to have told Justice Ernest M. Botkin, "I thought I could turn my corn crop into cash this way."

Sockrider pleaded not guilty when arraigned and was released on $500 bond to appear in court Monday afternoon. He is alleged to own 140 acres in Shawnee-tp.

Neighbors are said to have tipped off his alleged moonshining operations to Sheriff C. W. Baxter.

WARNS OF DANGER

Street Intersections Only, Should be Used for Crossing

Warning to pedestrians and children, to keep from the streets of Lima was sounded Friday by Chief of Police T. A. Lanker.

Exceptional activity on the part of the department makes it dangerous for anyone to use anyplace except regular street intersections for crossings, the chief declared.

Frequency of fast runs by both police and fire department cars, he says, endangers the life of the jay walker.

Parents in Lima are under the mistaken impression that their children may use the streets as play-grounds, the chief pointed out. A warning that accidents may happen for which children, rather than drivers of automobiles, would be responsible, where such conditions exist, was issued.

A child playing in the street is the most nerve wracking thing with which automobilists must contend, Lanker declared.

VAPOR STOVE CO. BUILDING AWAITS STOCK SUBSCRIPTION

Construction work on the new building to house the Vapor Stove Co., will begin as soon as the capital stock of the building company is subscribed, it was announced Friday.

Increased business of the stove company made a larger building necessary. Under the present agreement the company will pay eight per cent of the investment as rental and take over the building at the end of five years.

POLICE COURT TRIALS DELAYED FOR TWO WEEKS

Absence of City Solicitor Paul Landis, who has departed from the city for a two-week vacation, will delay police court trials for that length of time, it was indicated Friday morning.

Landis is the prosecutor for the city in Criminal court.

Andy Rinaldi, 27, 138 E. Fourth-st, charged with operating a still, was the first to be affected by Landis' vacation. Rinaldi pleaded not guilty, Friday. His trial was set for September 26. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Police raided Rinaldi's home Thursday night, and secured a still, they declared. The alleged offense is Rinaldi's second, police say.

FIFTY

FOUR JAILED ON MURDER CHARGE

Men Indicted in Illinois Mine Massacre Rounded Up

MARION, Ill. — (Associated Press.)

(With four additional men in jail here today charged with murder. Sheriff Melvin Thaxton and his special deputies were out searching for the rest of the 38 indicted yesterday in the true bills returned in the grand jury's partial report on the Herrin mine war.

With Otis Clark of Goresville, the first man indicted and arrested, the four new prisoners are:

Levi Mann, miner of Herrin; Charles Rogers, miner of Herrin; Philip Fontanetta, miner of Marion and James Brown, a negro deputy sheriff of Colp, a small mining settlement northwest of Herrin.

Less than 15 minutes after the indictments had been read in open court, Sheriff Thaxton was returning to the county jail with the first prisoner. The other three were brought in by the deputies late in the evening. Marion residents were unaware of the wholesale issuance of indictments as only a few were in court when the grand jury's report was read. St. Louis papers that reached the city this morning brought the first general information of the indictments.

The first indictment made known charged six men with the killing of Howard Hoffman of Huntington, Ind., one of the employees of the Lester strip mine who escaped the massacre at the barbed wire in the woods but who was overtaken and brought back to the cemetery where five were shot down. Levi Mann is in this group.

Nine men were made co-defendants in the third bill charging them with murder in connection with the death of John Shoemaker of Charleston, Ills. Charles Rogers, Fontanetta and James Brown, negro deputy sheriff, and Otis Clark are named in this bill.

FARM PROBLEMS

Members of the Spencer-tp farm bureau met in regular monthly session Thursday night. Poultry culting, livestock shipping and wheat planting was discussed. The Monroe-tp bureau will meet at Monroe Center Friday night. A similar program will be followed out.

OPEN LETTERS

To General Byng

DEAR CLARENCE: Have you read the recent statement of President Samuel Vaulchain of the Baldwin Locomotive Works? In that he said that congress' adjournment for four and state legislatures' for ten years would end most of our troubles. He meant, of course, that we have too much regulation.

Each day as I pick up my newspapers I read that we are going to regulate something else. Strikes me, Clarence, that we are going to be the most regulated city in the country pretty soon. Too much is worse than not enough.

To Motorists

MY FRIENDS: The schools of my city have opened. Thousands of youngsters go to and from the sixteen buildings daily. Please be careful when driving near a school house. I am mighty proud of my boys and girls and can't afford to lose a single one thru carelessness on your part.

To Chief Lanker

DEAR TOM: I liked the way you loaded up the old firearms and ammunition Wednesday and started out to hunt a fight with a gang of yeggs. You and your men were on the job and lost no time in getting started when you heard a band of desperadoes were headed this way from Toledo after killing a policeman and wounding another there.

If you had met them, you would have had the same experience Toledo policemen had when they overtook them near Wauseon and killed two and captured another. Yeggs, when they know a police force is always ready for a fight, are not so apt to take liberties.

To the Social Service Bureau,
Mrs. Irene Mills Jackson, Secretary

DEAR MRS. JACKSON: Please permit me to thank you for your prompt attention in the matter of flood sufferers in my city this week. It is unusual for such things to happen at this time of year, but your activity proved to me that you are ready for all emergencies. I am glad to learn that only a few persons required assistance.

To the City Commission

GENTLEMEN: Thanks for arranging to have the daylight time proposition placed on the ballots at the coming election. It will give my people an opportunity to say whether they want to go on with the confusion we are now experiencing or go back to legal time for Ohio.

If I had only one guess, I'd say they will give the new-fangled idea a swift kick.

FRIENDS: Most of you have been experimenting with wireless for your own pleasure. Now you have an opportunity to turn it to some benefit to your community. I hope you will heed the request of Police Chief Lanker and tip his department off when you receive news of crimes in other cities. You may be of great assistance in running down crooks.

to school, text books under the arm of each. What possibilities in such an army!

The world is yours. All you've got to do is go after it, but don't think that it owes you a living. That you must dig out. You have the opportunity now to lay the foundations of great careers. They can't be established except by work and then more work. Keep at it, take advantage of your opportunity and you will never regret the effort when the time comes for you to put out in your own bark in the turbulent sea of life.

LIMA BEANE.

To City Street Department

BOYS: Recently you have been tarring a number of streets and then placing a coating of gravel over them. I have noticed that in some instances you have left tarred thoroughfares stand for a day or more before spreading the gravel. School children often are forced to walk thru the tar or go a long way around. If they walk thru it, mother probably has something to say when they get home. Why not gravel them immediately?

DEAR EMMETT: Atta boy, Emmett! Collect the fines. If fines are not collected, there's no advantage in assessing them. If persons you befriend by allowing them time to pay fail to do so, get out the big stick and see that they come across. My city needs the cash and besides it will be a big help to your court to have the general public know that every time a fine is fixed it is collected.

'ROUND LIMA HOUR BY HOUR

WITH APOLOGIES

BY OH. OH. JACKENRIM

A Page from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter: I, up betimes. And no cook this day. So, hastily summoned Dee from her lugubrious slumbers. And she to the pots and pans.

ABE MARTIN

Life Bud has built a snug double house, an' now it's fifty fifty who'll be ever works agin or not. Th' smile in business was introduced durin' th' palmy days o' th' war, an' it begins t' look like th' kind that won't come off.

(Copyright, 1922.)

Radishes iced, and a sliver of cantaloupe, only a wee one in the house. And my wife, poor wretch, always a pleading therefor.

Abroad with films to the Camera shoppe, more monies escaping, which fear me I can ill afford. This day it grows torrid, and wouldst that Noah was hereabout to summon a flood. He being the only man good thereat; as Prospero the only guy who ever stopped a storm. Out, to a painless dentist parlors, albeit if that doc doesn't take down his sign, I to the Good Business Bureau to stop his misrepresentation.

Bowed to Judge Mead; and parked with a Spring-st capitalist. Who told me a tale anent the little daughter of the late Thornton Mitchell. Who set up her sign as "Dr. Mitchell," with two Red Cross nurses. And a tent for a hospital. Clever, methinks, and jolly well they must have enjoyed it. Youth, my youth; whence hath it gone?

Home to another family gathering, lunching on ham, an iced salad and peaches and cream for the sweet. Visited long with Charlie Lynch of the Allen county money. In discourse over municipal affairs. When he was clerk of the courts and Harry Bentley the attorney-general of this town. In the poste, a card from C. S. Brown and a clipping from the want-ad page. Saying, "evening meal will be served by a single man." Spinsters and widows will be saved old copies, but don't crowd the counter.

Waved to General Byng and Mayor Brud. In their corporation coach, after investigating severs and disposal. The General has a fine physique and an astutry of temperament. But Brud, methinks should take a vacation. Or smoke cigarettes a half hour before each meal. A recipe I learned for obesity while attending the Methodist seminary in Cincinnati. Where they turned good farmers into poor preachers.

Dined at Jake's Place. My first offense in more than a two-month. And a good menu, with a delectable sweet. Thence out to a cinema, Miss Talmadge doing even better than Jane Cowl in the speaking play. Chatted with Howard Miller, the contractor; and drank a choc parfait at Hunter's. In the evening read "This Freedom," by A. S. M. Hutchinson, author of the famous "If Winter Comes." He, spending two years on this tale of woman coming into her own. Based on Acts: 12:28. Met, too, Mrs. I. G. Hall, widow of a one-time Presbyterian minister, when Jeff Morris was in Sunday school. She, a highly cultured and interesting personage, with many old friends hereabouts.

So, over a bot of near-beer which was never so much as chummy with the old style, ate a cheese sandwich and to bed.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

By BERTON BRALEY

ROYAL FARE

Grapefruit and oranges, peaches and plums,
Raspberries, pineapples, straw-
berries too,
Give to the palate a thrill that becomes
Something to dream of, to seek
and pursue;
Blackberries, blueberries, cherries
and grapes
All have their virtues that hold
one in thrall,
Fruits of all flavors and colors and
shapes—
Ah, but the apple is King of them
all!

Greening and Pippin and Wealthy
and Snow,
Macintosh, Baldwin and Winesap
and King,
Fruit to set anyone's senses aglow,
Fruit which would stir any poet
to sing;
Sweetened by sunshine and nourished by rain,
Given a zest by the keen days of
fall,
Food for the body, the nerves and
the brain,
Truly the apple is King of them
all!

Pleasant to munch in its natural
state,
Dulcet in apple-sauce, tasty in
pie,
Crushed into cider—oh boy, but it's great,
Nectar the Gods on Olympus
would prize;
Baked—it's ambrosia, fried—it is
fine,
Good in a myriad different ways,
Pass me the apples, I'll eat eight or
nine—
Best of all fruits that Dame Nature can raise!

YOUR HEALTH

COMMON SENSE WAYS
TO KEEP WELL

DRINK MORE MILK

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Since milk is a typical natural food, used by civilized and uncivilized people alike, it seems worthy of some special consideration.
It is practically the only food which contains all the elementary principles in anything like the right proportions. It requires very little energy for digestion.
Milk is, however, not easily tolerated by some people, and in any case is very deficient in iron, so that anemia is almost sure to result from its over-use.
A good way to include more milk

in your diet is thru the use of cream soups and creamed vegetables.
Because of the healthy little vita-mines in milk, other dishes also should be considered that contain this element. Many vegetables contain vitamins, such as spinach, carrots and turnips, and other green vegetables should be used in their respective seasons.
It is well to give children a quart of milk daily, while adults should drink at least a pint. It should be taken slowly and not in gulps and hurriedly.

Products of milk, such as cheese or buttermilk are healthful. Cheese, however, is difficult to digest. It promotes its digestion it ought to be grated or eaten with some other easily digested food.
Cream contains most of the fat of the milk and is a somewhat heavier food. One pint of cream contains more caloric value than four quarts of milk.
The addition to milk of water,
cream and sugar is often necessary to make it more digestible, especially for children.

REWARD OFFERED FOR GIRL

Believed Married to Kentucky Merchant's Son

GLASGOW, Ky. — (Associated Press.)—Reports from Nashville that a newly married couple answering the description of Miss Carolyn Shuster, pretty 18-year-old daughter of W. Morgan Shuster, president of the Century Publishing Company, New York, and William Morris, 20, son of a Glasgow merchant, had registered at a hotel there, formed the only clue today to the whereabouts of Miss Shuster, who has been missing since Wednesday night.

Miss Shuster and Mr. Morris, who were reported to have left Glasgow in an automobile together Wednesday night are believed to have eloped and the girl's mother, Mrs. Pearl Trigg Shuster, has offered a reward of $100 for her detention. Police in all cities of Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana have been asked to be on the lookout for her.

POLICE COURT TRIALS DELAYED FOR TWO WEEKS

Absence of City Solicitor Paul Landis, who has departed from the city for a two-week vacation, will delay police court trials for that length of time, it was indicated Friday morning.

Landis is the prosecutor for the city in Criminal court.

Andy Rinaldi, 27, 136 E. Fourth, charged with operating a still, was the first to be affected by Landis' vacation. Rinaldi pleaded not guilty, Friday. His trial was set for September 26. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Police raided Rinaldi's home Thursday night, and secured a still, they declared. The alleged offense is Rinaldi's second, police say.

IRISH REBELS WAR ON EACH OTHER

Leaders Disagree on Plans and Battle Ensues

DUBLIN — (Associated Press.)—Disagreement between two irregular leaders operating in county Kerry is reported to have caused a sanguinary fight in which rifles, bombs and machine guns were used by the opposing factions.

One leader, named McCellistrum, is said to have opposed plans for ambushing a food convoy enroute to the relief of Killarney. Humphrey Murphy, another leader, differed on the issue with McCellistrum and the split spread to the ranks.

Irregular forces yesterday attacked a signal cabin on the Great Southern railway between Dundrum and Limerick Junction but the small garrison of national troops repulsed them with the reported loss to the irregulars of one killed and several wounded. The national's casualties were one killed and two wounded.

FOUR JAILED ON MURDER CHARGE

Men Indicted in Illinois Mine Slaughter Rounded Up

MARION, Ill. — (Associated Press.)—With four additional men in jail here today charged with murder, Sheriff Melvin Thaxton and his special deputies were out searching for the rest of the 38 indicted yesterday in the true bills returned in the grand jury's partial report on the Herrin mine war.

With Otis Clark of Goresville, the first man indicted and arrested, the four new prisoners are:

Levi Mann, miner of Herrin; Charles Rogers, miner of Herrin; Philip Poutanetta, miner of Marion and James Brown, a negro deputy sheriff of Colp, a small mining settlement northwest of Herrin.

Less than 15 minutes after the indictments had been read in open court, Sheriff Thaxton was returning to the county jail with the first prisoner. The other three were brought in by the deputies late in the evening. Marion residents were unaware of the wholesale issuance of indictments as only a few were in court when the grand jury's report was read. St. Louis papers that reached the city this morning brought the first general information of the indictments.

The first indictment made known charged six men with the killing of Howard Hoffman of Huntington, Ind., one of the employees of the Lester strip mine who escaped the massacre at the barbed wire in the woods but who was overtaken and brought back to the cemetery where five were shot down. Levi Mann is in this group.

Nine men were made co-defendants in the third bill charging them with murder in connection with the death of John Shoemaker of Charleston, Ill. Charles Rogers, Fontanetta and James Brown, negro deputy sheriff, and Otis Clark are named in this bill.

able is all but a new study. This is the first time I have been back in school since I graduated from college in 1880 when I was 21 years old.

She taught school for five and then married a Methodist clergyman. The duties of a home and parish and the mother of five sons kept her pretty busy. The next quarter of a century her life was but a blur.

This year when her grandson was graduated from the University of North Carolina she realized there was nothing to prevent her going back to school even at the age of 71.

She is a college student, hence, Columbia.

The Fragment

By Zoe Beckley

But it seems that people of importance do not discuss business secrets before strangers, and Fred was disappointed to have Mr. Steward leave almost immediately. The man was driven away virtually by Hanna Fuller's coldness, answering him monosyllabically and shutting him tightly from her conversation with Fred.

She even seemed slightly dispirited on the drive back, talking little until they had almost reached Cleopatra's Court. Then her remarks were as tho she were thinking aloud.

"Life seems to pattern itself, her tone was gentle, almost wistful, on a sort of coquette dance, doesn't it, Mr. Dale?" A is pursued and wooed by P, but himself courts C, by whom he is scorned in favor of D. And so on. Give me a hint about it, won't you?" Jim Steward is but over a new make of car and went on to—

She stopped abruptly, as tho something she spoke too freely, had said a sincere "Thank you—good night" and went up quickly to her apartment.

Fred's mind kept running on her cryptic utterance about Steward's having in "a new make of car," on his first meeting with the big man himself, and on the persistent rumor in Automobile Row of some expansion of the company on the part of the Steward interests.

He drove the demonstration car to its garage, telephoned Connie that he'd dine at a wonderful restaurant he'd heard of, and over the week end almost forgot the circumstances of the Saturday at noon on Monday. It returned with the viewings of a lightning flash. He had noted a lot of excited whispering among the men in the Row and soon found it centered in a group of four. Watkins, one of the bright lights of the selling staff, took him to lunch.

Watkins seemed elaborately subtle, asked a lot of questions, especially about his prospects of selling "the Fuller," a Gypsy. Finally Fred blurted out—

"Come on, son, tip me. What's in it for me?"

Watkins hesitated. Then hitching his chair closer, took from his wallet what seemed to be a scrap of letter, pausing it to Fred to read.

"Greater test can a woman's than that a man should share valuable secrets."

LEARN A WORD A DAY

TODAY'S word is—HETEROGENEOUS.

It pronounced—het-er-o-jen-ee-us. It means—different in kind; having unlike qualities; possessing different characteristics dissimilar.

It comes from a combination of Greek words meaning, respectively, "other" and "race" or "kind."

It is used like this—"There are certain laws concerning the desirability of which it is very difficult to secure agreement in the United States, owing to the heterogeneous character of the population."

(1) Certainly not—dancing lessons also tend to give her poise and charm of manner. (2) No, not if one is especially gifted in this art. (3) Yes. Wait a few years longer. You will never regret it.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I am planning to become a nurse. I am a girl of 15 years of age. I am in love with some man who lives a short time from our house. We went to the country for several months. I have reasons to know that he is not for me. He took me out frequently and was always very kind to me. I cannot understand what is wrong. I have done nothing. I am simply in love with him and he will not act different soon. I will go to the doctor.

DESPERATE

I only I were a mind reader and could read this young man's thoughts, I might be able to know why his attitude toward you has changed. Unfortunately, since I am not one I can only assume.

There is one possible reason and that is that you have been too eager and have shown this man that you care for him. It is a mistake for my girl to do such a thing unless the man has expressed his love for her.

If however you have not encouraged him and waited for his advances, it is probable that he has come to the realization that his regard is not as deep as yours and, accordingly, he leaves it best to cease his attentions.

Please don't become desperate. Few men are worth it. Have too much pride to permit this man to see that the withdrawal of his attentions means so much to you.

Dear Miss Smart: (1) I am a girl of 11 years. My complexion is light. I have long hair and we all like to know how to fix it. The color is brunette. I have it braided in one braid and I don't like it. My parents say it is nice to have it bobbed. I cannot curl it. Can you tell me a nice way to fix it? (2) How is my writing?

FANNIE

(1) The nicest and only way for a little girl of 11 to wear her hair is bobbed. There is no style more becoming, more youthful or more practical and sensible for a young girl. (2) Your writing is fair, Fannie.

GO TO JUNGLES FOR BEAUTY, WOMAN NIMROD ADVISES

BY MARIAN HALE.

Women are natural born hunters, and are alleged to be, but most of them prefer to stalk their prey within the confines of civilization.

An exception is Mrs. Harry K. Eustace of London, now on a visit to America, who has shot with her gun, as well as her gun all sorts of interesting wild animals, while her husband, an explorer, has been sent to the collection of the Zoological Society of London.

As a place to learn poise, study human nature, and likewise attain beauty, Mrs. Eustace recommends the jungles of Africa, into which she has penetrated further than any other woman.

"When you have looked a rhinoceros, lion or tiger squarely in the eye and convinced him that you are a tree or a stationary object instead of a nice, toothsome tidbit, you aren't afraid to face human beings," she says.

And when you analyze the matter you find animals and humans both respond to the same attributes in dignity and fearlessness. People think you are afraid, they expect you. If you show fear to an animal, he shows power.

"I believe animals, however, are much more quick to sense fear vibrations than people. I think they are as conscious of them as they are of our particular human odor, which they hate."

"I would teach a child fearlessness above all other characteristics. I believe it is one's best equipment for dealing with all problems with people as well as facing physical danger."

"While I can face jungle animals without fear, I cannot yet look upon a little crawling earwig without a feeling of repulsion, all because a kind nurse taught me to be afraid of it."

"Kill or get killed, is the law of the jungle, but I have never yet killed any living thing except in self-defense. In the jungle they call me 'Gatessi Moya,' meaning 'One Shot.'"

"I can tame any animal, even a snake. There was my favorite black and yellow python, Jehosaphat, the only snake I believe that ever had his meals served to him in a hotel in New Zealand."

"I used to sit by his cage and play the mandolin for him. Pretty soon he would coil affectionately about my wrists. I kept him with me for a year and a half until he died from a cold."

"You have no idea how little time or inclination one has for 'squares' in the jungle. Petty trifles just naturally disappear in the face of the big elemental things you face there."

"My skin gets as brown as that of a native, but the outdoor life keeps it smooth and soft, and when we get back to civilization and it scratches out a blemish, I find I haven't a wrinkle or a blemish."

"Mrs. Eustace has a number of interesting recipes for food. Elephant tail soup is much more tasty than our own ox tail soup, she says.

She has a country home and a city home in England, a suite at the Hotel Astor in New York, but she is impatient to get back to Africa where she has spent most of her time the last 12 years.

"There's no place so much like home as the jungle," she says.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
NANCY AND NICK GET QUEEN'S WAND
By Olive Roberts Barton

He went on eating his rice and flapping his big ears.

Nancy wondered and wondered how she and Nick could get the Fairy Queen's wand from Flap-Doodle, the purple fairy, who had stolen it.

Flap-Doodle and the Twins were eating rice together out of bowls with chopsticks. The Twins had invited Flap-Doodle to have some lunch.

Suddenly Nancy thought of a plan. "That's a nice chopstick you brought with you, Mr. Flap-Doodle," she said. "Do you care if I try it?"

Flap-Doodle didn't know what to say. He looked over to the place he had put the wand and wished he had kept it by him.

"Oh, I guess not," he said off-hand like, as though he didn't care.

So Nancy went and got the Fairy Queen's wand.

Flap-Doodle never once guessed that the little Chinese boy called Nick Oo Ting was just plain Nick, and that the little Chinese girl called Nan Soy was his twin, Nancy. So he didn't worry much.

He went on eating his rice and flapping his big ears, never noticing that Nancy was motioning to Nick behind his back.

All at once he heard Nick say:

He flew after the Twins as fast as his ears would carry him, talking to himself every inch of the way.

They passed the Moon and Venus, and Mars and Jupiter, also the star where the Weatherman lived.

But people on the stars only said: "There goes something. What dropped, do you suppose?"

AID IN BOOSTING GRAIN URGED

Help Thru War Finance Corporation is Suggested

BIG CROP ON FARMERS' HAN

Need of Heroic Measures is Seen by Forbes

(BY R. C. FORBES)

SALT LAKE CITY.—(Special).—About the biggest question of all for the West, indeed, for the whole country is:

Will the world be able to consume America's bumper grain crops at prices reasonably profitable to our farmers?

Frankly I find not a little misgiving on this point among farmers in the grain growing states.

Said one western farmer: "Look as far as you can see. You see fields after field of wheat. A lot of it is just as good as this field where we are standing. Look how close the stacks are. This should run from 25 to 35 bushels an acre."

"But what good it is doing us to grow it? There's no demand for it."

I remarked that wheat was quoted slightly above a dollar a bushel in Chicago and that I thought this price was not so very bad, all things considered.

He immediately and emphatically replied: "These figures posted up in Chicago don't cut much figure here. We couldn't sell our wheat here at 87 1/2 cents a bushel. Buyers are not coming around. Even if we tried to send a lot of wheat to Chicago, we wouldn't be able to get cars to ship it."

"Our local elevator space is all filled up. We don't know what's going to happen."

"If we could feel sure of getting anything like a decent price for our wheat, we would feel different about things. We have been scrimping ourselves for machinery and implements for two years and need to buy in the worst way. If we could turn our crops into cash at prices not positively ruinous, you would see us go into the market and spend a great deal of money. There are a lot of things we need and need badly. But all farmers have had their lesson about going heavily into debt. They are not anxious to go thru that experience again."

I have no desire to spread pessimism; yet, taking everything into consideration, the harmfulness of the crops in this country and elsewhere, the financial prostration in Europe, etc., I cannot but feel that heroic measures ought to be taken with a view to preventing unfortunate consequences in this country by broadening the market for our crops.

How?

One who travels much thru the agricultural regions of the United States discloses that the War Finance Corporation has established quite a reputation for helpfulness and efficiency.

Why should it not be both feasible and advisable to enlist the services of the War Finance Corporation in help to market American wheat abroad?

The facts briefly are: The United States will have a large quantity of wheat available for export.

Europe could utilize this surplus. But Europe at the moment doesn't have the money necessary to buy the wheat we have to sell.

Could not arrangements be made whereby the finance corporation, acting in conjunction with European authorities, guaranteed payment of wheat purchases made by their nations under conditions and pledges specified by the authorities?

There are many concerns in Europe whose home credit is quite good but whose position is not such as would warrant large sales of wheat to them by Americans. Each foreign government could organize the machinery necessary to analyze the trustworthiness of prospective wheat purchasers and to supervise the drawing up of proper documents.

The War Finance Corporation could also take all steps necessary to handle its end of an arrangement whereby, after all regulations and requirements were complied with, it guaranteed payment to the American seller.

Of course, no one wants to see the War Finance Corporation or any similar governmental body continued in existence one day longer than conditions demand. Nor does anyone

His Job Is to Keep His Patients Well—And He Gets Salary

ARTHUR, Neb.—(Special).—Now comes the "community doctor."

And this little settlement, situated amid prairie dog villages in the sand hill country of the plains, takes credit for discovery of the plan—that is, in the United States, for the Chinese have had it for centuries.

The physician is Dr. P. E. Parr, and his duties are to keep Arthur citizens healthy and strong, rather than to cure the sick. For this does he, with the least exertion, earn his salary of $2,500 a year.

Before the community plan was adopted, no doctor had ever been able to make a living in Arthur, which has an area of 721 square miles and, according to the 1929 census, a population of 1412, or less than two persons to the square mile.

But with the epidemic of three years ago, residents hereabout awoke to the fact that a physician was, after all, a convenient person to have around. So 100 of the town's leading citizens made an offer of $25,000 a year guarantee to Dr. Parr. He accepted.

Parr keeps accounts of all patients treated and of money received from them. The books, always open for inspection, are balanced at the end of the year, and the guarantors pay the difference. If any between what the doctor took in and $25,000 last year it was $1500, or $15 from each.

How does it work out? "Fine!" say the guarantors. "We heartily recommend the system to all sparsely settled communities."

Want to see "more government in business?"

But still less would any thoughtful citizen desire to see our 35,000,000 agricultural population subjected to further hardships if such hardships could possibly be averted. For let no one imagine for a moment that we will have or can have full prosperity in this country if our crops cannot be taken care of at something like satisfactory prices to the growers.

If the suggestion here made be not the best one, it ought at least to draw attention to this mighty important matter and stimulate some effective action.

WOULD CUT CRIME 50 PER CENT

New York Police Head Offers Solution to Problem

PLAN INCLUDES THE WORLD

Will Submit Program to International Conference Sept. 11

(BY EDWARD M. THIERRY)

NEW YORK.—(Special).—Richard E. Enright, police commissioner of New York, looks up as the leader in the solution of one world problem which politics seems unlikely to hinder—"to make the world unsafe for criminality."

"I don't expect to see crime utterly banished," he says, "but I do see a way to cut it down 50 per cent in five years."

Commissioner Enright, just back from Europe, where he converted the police authorities of six nations to his ideas, told in an interview the program he will lay before a meeting of the National Police Conference, which will really be international in scope—on Sept. 11.

This is the program:
ONE: National and international police cooperation on a systematic basis—an "entente cordiale" in law enforcement.
TWO: A central bureau under federal auspices as a clearing house for the identification of criminals, and for the automatic gathering and exchange of records, fingerprints and photographs.
THREE: Broadcasting of complete information—up-to-date records, fingerprints, photographs—of habitual criminals about to be released from prison.
FOUR: An agency to combat criminal anarchy, to keep tabs on movements of "reds."
FIVE: Police supervision of immigration, to prevent by international cooperation, entrance of criminals and anarchists.

"Crime is reeking all over the country," says Enright. "Indeed, major crime in New York alone is 20 per cent less than in 1917 before abnormal war conditions came. But we can cut it more."

"Too many in America think the law is a joke. I found England has less crime because there is a well-grounded respect for the law. But I think some parts of Continental Europe have more crime than America."

STING TAKEN
Criminals here no longer fear punishment in prison; they consider it a sort of a holiday. Prison life is too easy and comfortable. The prison reform fanatics have broken down respect for law.

"That is why I advocate keeping closer tabs on released prisoners—not to persecute them, but to help those who are entitled to help and to prevent the confirmed criminal from committing further crimes."

"Nobody has more sympathy than I have for the first offender. Many are rescued even after the second offense. But after the third offense a man usually is a crook for life."

"As for the reformed ones, the police of New York have done more for ex-crooks—provided them with jobs and helped more of them to get straight—than all the reform and welfare leagues put together."

MEASURE IN CONGRESS
Explaining his program for a central records bureau Enright said it would be entirely independent of the federal government.

HEALTH THE SECRET OF ATTRACTION
Woman of today depend a good deal upon the modern modiste and a knowledge of the cosmetic art to make them attractive. Too often there exists beneath it all a suffering woman whose nervous laugh or forced smile covers a pang of agony caused by some feminine ill. To such a woman Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring health and happy relief from her suffering, that will make her far more attractive than costly gowns and cosmetics.

For nearly fifty years American women have relied upon this root and herb medicine to relieve their ailments.—Adv.

any federal secret service agency and was not in any respect a step toward, or advocacy of a federal police force.

Senator William M. Calder of New York, he said, had drawn a bill embodying it, which probably will be introduced in Congress following the National Police Conference session.

"Its initial cost will be $250,000 a year with a gradual reduction each year," Enright says. "until it should eventually pay for itself in the help given federal agents alone. In five years crime could be reduced perhaps 50 per cent, millions saved in property loss, and deaths due to criminality—which are said to have been 80,000 last year—would be reduced tremendously."

High police authorities from London and Paris will attend the September conference here, Enright says, and probably also representatives from Berlin, Vienna, Rome, Naples and Brussels.

CENTRAL BUREAU
"The proposed central bureau," he said, "would be strictly a clearing house, with no field force, no control, no jurisdiction. With foreign cooperation, assurances of which I received while over there, it will become an international clearing house."

"Checking criminal anarchy through immigration control, is one of the most important phases; for most of the crimes of this sort during the last 10 years, including the Wall Street bombing in which 39 were killed two years ago, has gone unpunished."

Commissioner Enright, a man of great bulk, with a shaggy head of curly gray hair, was promoted five years ago out of the ranks to the command of New York's 11,000 policemen.

"Yes, there is less crime generally," he said, "but bad liquor is the cause of many major crimes. I can't hazard a guess what prohibition's effect will be on criminality—because real prohibition has not arrived. How can it, when—as the poll of a popular magazine

BIG TENNIS ARRAY MEETS FOR SINGLES TITLE

123 Stars
Entered

PHILADELPHIA — The world's best lawn tennis players were gathered at the Germantown Cricket Club today for the opening of the forty-first annual national singles championship tournament. Among the 123 contestants entered were stars from the east, middle west and Pacific slope and from Australia, Spain and Japan.

Of the fifty-nine matches on the program today, nine were to be played upon the championship courts within the grandstand enclosure, three at noon, three more at 2 o'clock and the last trio at four.

TILDS IN GROUP I

In the first group William T. Tilden II, of Philadelphia was to meet Alex H. Thayer, another Philadelphia; Arnold Jones and W. W. Ingraham, both of Providence, R. I., were to cross rackets, and R. Norris Williams of Boston was matched with J. C. Wright of Boston.

Matches set for two o'clock included William M. Johnston of San Francisco, against Craig Biddle of Philadelphia; Carl Fisher of Philadelphia against John Hennessey of Indianapolis, and J. O. Anderson, of the Australian Pacific cup team, against Sydney Thayer Jr., of Philadelphia.

JAP CARRIED

The three matches likely to be the closest of the day were set for four o'clock when Zenzo Shimizu of Japan was to meet Walter Westbrock of Detroit; Jesse Alonzo, of Spain, was matched against Frank C. Anderson of New York and N. W. Niles of Porton was to take on Willie D. Davis of California.

NEW SCHOOL TEACHES PICTURE PRESENTATION

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
A SCHOOL for motion picture presentation has been established by S. L. Rothafel, director of the Capitol Theater. Among the subjects to be taught are the psychology of entertainment, building, color and light, coordination of music and picture, editing of film units, scoring of pictures, scenic investiture and management of a theater. Enrollment will be limited to members of the theater staff. Even so, Rothafel will have a large class. The Capitol is the world's largest theater, seating 5400. The staff engaged in its operation numbers 200, inclusive of an orchestra of 80. Rothafel is a unique figure in the industry. Twelve years ago he was managing his own movie show in the bar of a barroom in a small Pennsylvania town. He has been director of the Capitol two years. Some of the high-brows who have decried the humble origin of the leaders in the movie industry might pause to consider Rothafel's case. He is only one of many who saw the possibilities of the motion picture. Like them he has studied his part in it. Now he heads a school to teach others what he has learned. A few years ago Ann May was a school girl in Cincinnati. Now she is hunting a story that will serve as a starring vehicle for herself. She wants a story that will do full justice to the modern girl. "More sympathy and less censure is what the modern girl wants," says Miss May. And here we've been thinking all along that sympathy is the one thing the girl of today doesn't want.

S. L. Rothafel. Twelve years ago he managed a "movie" in the rear of a barroom. Now he directs the largest theater in the world. Ann May. A few years ago a Cincinnati school girl. Now she's to be starred in the movies when she finds a suitable vehicle.

Double Feature Program at the Lyric
WILL you look at what the Lyric is handing out this week-end? Will Rogers in "Kissed," all on the same program. And there's a good deal in the best of each, and much bad in the worst of each. It hardly behooves any of us to see either picture. (Doesn't it, does it?) The unexplainable something which makes Will Rogers so dear to his admirers is decidedly present in "Kissed." He's cast as a clerkly inventor, whom bad luck has taken a liking to and who follows him around everywhere. But Will wears his poverty with a smile and meets each cold, grey dawn with a smile and a wonderful philosophy. He carries him and his little brood of hunger, sickness, death and humiliation. You'll be a better man or woman after seeing "A Poor Relation," and while you're learning a thing or two, you'll have a few good laughs in the bargain. Also, Sylvia Breamer and Wallace MacDonald play opposite, with violence.

"Nice People" With a Superb Cast
NOT having seen Francine Lawrence in "Nice People," which every one who saw it was a sure success, we can't say whether the movie of the same name is a life-like version, or whether it is as interesting as the play. However, we do know, that Mr. De Mille has assembled a cast of characters that would lure any self-respecting movie fan to the theatre, and that the production, as a whole, is quite creditable, very much so, in fact. Dear editor says, will I please be brief, so all you will get to hear about "Nice People" from this department is that Babe Daniels, who has the role which Francine created on the real stage, is quite happy as the ultra-modern deb who is the gay leader of the city's high-spirited younger social set, and that she is equally attractive as the married Ted who comes to know enough for what she is and ultimately ends up on a farm, planting potatoes and raising chickens. She is a different Debe, somehow, but she is charming. Somehow, she seems different, but she's probably the makeup. Conrad Nagel, bless his heart, is charming in the well-meaning but unsuccessful beau, and Julia Faye, as an important role, shows extreme versatility. Where does Wally come in? Why, he's the nice young chap who undertakes to teach Ted the rudiments of farming, and who ultimately taught her a few other things about love, etc., and in the end promises to marry her, if she will promise to be a nice, old-fashioned little wife, sans cigarettes and such like. Since Ted promises, there isn't much else to say about it, except that the sets, scenery, etc., measure up to the usual De Mille standard, and that the direction and photography are of the best. "Nice People" is at the Quilna theatre again today and Saturday.

CINEMAGRAMS
"When Summer Comes" is the title of the next Sennett comedy featuring Mildred June and Billy Bevan.
James Rennie says some day he will start a series of stage productions, featuring Dorothy Gish, his wife, in one, Lillian Gish in another, and himself in the third.
Yep, they keep on changing them. Marshall Neilan has changed "Her Man" to "Minnie."
A new color process was used by Penrhyn Stanlaws for some scenes in "Pink Gods." We were wondering how he was going to get 'em pink.
"Affinities," the Mary Roberts Rinehart story with Colleen Moore and John Bowers in the leading roles, has been completed.

MUTT AND JEFF—

By BUD FISHER

BRINGING UP FATHER

—BY McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

Harmon Russell, commercial photographer, has an acquaintance who is an enthusiastic amateur photographer.

"The other day he arose at 5 and went into the country to get pictures of early morning rural scenes," Russell says.

"The trip would have been a grand success but for one thing."

"He was rather sleepy when he started out. As a result he failed to put any film in his camera."

Joe Goodrich, auto salesman, recounts the experience of a business friend whose sense of humor lost him a customer.

The friend was called on the phone. Said the voice at the other end, "This is Mr. Gallagher."

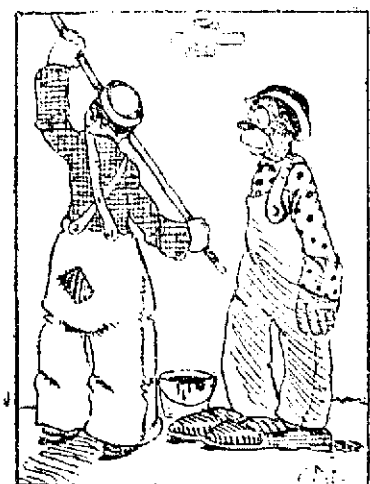

"My friend, recalling the vaudeville team of Gallagher and Shean, thought someone was trying to have some fun with him and replied, 'This is Mr. Shean.'"

"He learned his mistake when the party hung up."

George Metheny, of the phone company, was standing at Main and High-sts.

He reports that a woman came

NOT PROVEN

Mose: "What do you all think of these here and o' th' world predictions?"

Eph: "They's no count. Noveh knew one o' 'em to come true in my life."

Along carrying a babe, she asked the policeman on the corner to hold her baby while she did some shopping in the corner drug store.

"The policeman was most obliging," says Metheny, "he held the babe with one hand and directed traffic with the other."

Mr. Mary A. Fritz, 512 W. North, says she believes an acquaintance of hers has too trusting a nature.

"A beggar came to the door," she tells, "she had no change, so she gave the man a dollar and told him to get it changed for her at the nearby grocery store."

"And she expressed surprise when the man failed to return."

MASTIN'S Vitamon Greatest Beauty Secret Of All

Puts On Firm Flesh, Banishes Skin Eruptions, Strengthens The Nerves and Increases Energy

If you want to quickly clear your skin and complexion, put some firm, healthy flesh on your bones, increase your nerve force and power and look and feel far better, simply try taking two tiny MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets with each meal and watch the results.

MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets contain not only all three vitamins but true organic iron for enriching the blood, the necessary lime salts and other vitalizing muscle, bone and brain-making elements. It is a guarantee, to understand why physicians everywhere who have thoroughly investigated their merit are now prescribing them to their thin, run-down patients rather than let them run the risk of experimenting with unproven poisons.

MASTIN'S Vitamon Tablets will not upset the stomach or cause gas, but on the contrary are a great aid to digestion, for improving the appetite and the whole system. Hollow cheeks and sunken chin seem to vanish, the complexion becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. Be sure to insist upon MASTIN'S to get the original and genuine Vitamon Tablets.
